Carolina's primary is seen primarily as another duel between Carter and Wallace. Carter beat the Alabama governor in primaries in Florida and, last week, in Illinois; Wallace got more votes than Carter in the Massachusetts primary won by Jackson.

Jackson's interest in the North Carolina election fell off last week when New York's legislature changed the system for voting there April 6, making it easier for candidates with less money — like Udall — to round up support. The Washington senator quickly shifted his concentration to New York and the race for 274 national convention delegates, a race he predicts he will win.

North Carolina sends 61 delegates to the Democratic convention and 54 to the Republican meeting this summer, and Alex Brock, head of the state's election board, predicted this week that less than 38 per cent of the registered voters would help pick them.

'Six-Day-War' bills shot down in court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - The Supreme Court ruled today that six partisan bills jammed through the legislature last year by the Democratic majority did not meet constitutional requirements.

The court in a 6-1 decision said the bills were invalid. The court ordered Gov. James A. Rhodes to file the bills with the secretary of state, but said they would have no force.

Chief Justice C. William O'Neill, in the majority opinion, said the Democrats acted improperly in bypassing Republican Lt. Gov. John W.

Democrats had argued that Brown's signature on the legislation was merely a formality, and that they were justified in taking the legislation directly to Democratic Gov. John J.

Gilligan, then in his last day in office But O'Neill said the constitutional provision requiring Brown's signature was not discretionary

"The provisions in...the Ohio Constitution are designed expressly to guarantee the integrity of the legislative process," O'Neill said. These provisions place a responsibility upon the presiding officer of each house to certify, by his signature, that the integrity of the legislative process has not been violated either inadvertently or deliberately.

Justice Frank D. Celebrezze, the lone dissenter, said the majority decision "revitalizes the ancient ritual of formal presentment, signing and authentication to the demise of established legislative procedure in legislature is seated a week before the governor. Therefore, the Democraticcontrolled 111th General Assembly took office just before Rhodes took office.

The bills the Democrats passed during the week were unabashedly partisan. They redrew Congressional district lines to favor Democratic candidates and shifted jobs and power from Republican officeholders to Democrats.

After the bills were signed by Gilligan, however, Republican Secretary of State Ted W. Brown refused to file them, saying they did not carry the signature of Lt. Gov. Brown.

Since then, Rhodes has held the six bills in the governor's safe and Republican legislators have challenged their constitutionality in the courts, culminating in the decision today

The latest price report follows a spate of economic reports this week showing steady improvement in almost all sectors of the economy

Industrial production in February increased for the 10th consecutive month, housing starts jumped 27 per cent to the highest level in nearly two years and businesses began expanding inventories by the biggest margin in over a year, the government reported. Ford administration officials consider the economic news since the first of the year a vindication of their policies and a boost for the President's election chances.

Unemployment also has dropped dramatically over the past four months, and wholesale prices have declined at an adjusted annual rate of 3.8 per cent since November.

Treasury Secretary William E Simon predicted earlier this week, in the administration's most optimistic forecast to date, that joblessness may drop below 7 per cent this year and that inflation will decline to about 2 per cent within three years.

But the Congressional Budget Office warned that while the recovery is progressing, the improvement rate could slow sharply next year unless the economy is given more stimulation than the administration has proposed.

The report, released today by the Senate subcommittee on long-term care and programs, particularly scrutinized New York and Illinois. Senate investigators said private homes were found

Moss claimed mental patients "are a good investment" in New York as well as in Illinois

He offered case histories of several private operations, including one in Illinois where the operator housed 180 mental patients who were transferred from public care facilities. The operator received $400,000 a year and managed to keep $185,000 as profit. Moss said the operator spent only 54 cents per patient per day for food.

Moss laid part of the blame on Congress and the Social Security Act, including the Supplemental Security Income program. In 1935, when it approved Social

"In short, Congress created the scandal-ridden, for-profit nursing home industry," he said.

In this same way, Moss continued, Congress barred receipt of SSI funds by individuals in public institutions and cut SSI funds by a third for individuals under the care of and living with relatives.

The result, Moss said, was an incentive to leave public institutions for private-care facilities. The same law provided financial incentive for states to move patients into private homes,

Nuclear authority lines questioned

WASHINGTON (AP) - A former U.S. nuclear strategist says the Pentagon may revoke what he said is the sole exception to civilian control over the use of American atomic weapons.

The exception cited is the power of the commander of the North American Air Defense Command to use lowpowered defensive missiles against atbombers without president's prior permission if the President cannot be contacted in time.

The former strategist, retired Vice Admiral Gerald E. Miller, told a House International Relations subcommittee Thursday that the Pentagon would eliminate this exception because of changing circumstances.

The Pentagon had no immediate

The NORAD Commander is now Air Force Gen. Daniel James, whose headquarters is near Colorado Springs,

Miller said the NORAD commander's authority is limited to firing the weapons only over friendly territory or the open seas. Furthermore, the commander had to keep trying and trying to obtain presidential approval until the "situation was in extremis," he said.

The retired admiral made no mention of the reported authority of the commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, now Gen. Alexander Haig, to use tactical nuclear weapons to repel any massive attack by Soviet forces

Miller, who continues as a consultant to the Pentagon on nuclear policies. told the House subcommittee that he understands action is underway in the Defense Department to revoke the NORAD commander's weapon-firing might have outlived its usefulness. With modern technology and the succession of civilian leadership from the president to the vice president and on down through Congress, Miller said, there could be no case in which a civilian leader could not be immediately found to authorize the use of the nuclear weapons. Referring to the safeguard-system of protecting against accidential or unauthorized use of nuclear weapons, Miller told the panel, "I think our concern should be with the great difficulty of using nuclear weapons." State Supreme Court Justice Ellis Staley upheld a recently enacted section of New York election law permitting Democratic party delegatecandidates to be identified on the ballot with the name of the presidential candidate they support.

NEW YORK (AP) - The best consumer price news in four and a half years failed to offset mounting concern over rising interest rates as stock prices gave ground again today.

The Dow Jones industrial average was off more than a point at the opening. Losers topped gainers by about a 4 to 3 margin among New York Stock Exchange-listed issues.

As the market opened, the government reported that consumer prices in February were up only 0.1 per cent, the smallest rise since September 1971. But that good inflation news ap-

1. Ordinance No. 5-76 enacted as an emergency measure by the Council of the City of Washington, Ohio on March 1, 1976 levies a one half of one per cent (.005) city income tax effective April 1, 1976.

2. In accordance with the provisions of the abovementioned ordinance, employers within or doing business within the City of Washington, Ohio are required commencing April 1, 1976, to deduct at the time of payment of salaries, wages, commissions and other compensation the tax of one half of one per cent (.005) of the gross salaries, wages, commissions and other compensation due by the employer to an employee.

3. Employers shall on or before the last day of the month following the close of each calendar quarter make a return and pay to the Tax Administrator the amount of taxes so deducted. Said returns are to be made on form or forms prescribed by or acceptable to the Tax Administrator and shall be subject to the rules and regulations prescribed therefor by the Tax Administrator.

Employers shall be liable for the payment of the tax required to be withheld whether or not such taxes have in fact been withheld.

5. On or before the thirty-first (31st) day of January following any calendar year employers shall file with the Tax Administrator an information return for each employee (Wage and Tax Statement, Form W-2) from whom the City of Washington, Ohio income tax has been or should have been withheld, showing the name, address and social security number of each employee, the total amount of compensation paid during the year and the amount of City of Washington, Ohio income tax withheld from each employee.

6. Employers collecting the tax are deemed to hold same. until payment is made by such employer to the City of Washington, Ohio, as a trustee for the benefit of the City of Washington, Ohio and any such tax collected by employer from his employees shall, until the same is paid to the City of Washington, Ohio, be deemed a trust fund in the hands of such employer.

Postal cutbacks poor remedy

The United States Postal Service continues its deplorable course of reducing service to curb a growing deficit which already astronomical size. The latest step in this direction is the announcement that business mail delivery will soon be trimmed in New York and several other Eastern cities.

The plan is to cut deliveries to businesses to one a day in Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Syracuse, Utica, Rochester and Buffalo as of March 29. Effective May 17 deliveries will be reduced to twice daily in New York City, the only city with three deliveries a day at present

On simple bookkeeping grounds this makes exemplary good sense; it is expected that the cutbacks will save about three million dollars annually. The wisdom of a reduction in a vital business service is, however, open to question.

The problems of the Postal Service are monumental, the more so because rising costs ironically coincide with a decline in mail use which cuts revenues. But service reductions undertaken and contemplated are a poor remedy which may be self-defeating. The time has come for a thoroughgoing congressional review.

From a theory on drawing tables and three-inch volumes, the sewer project is becoming a reality. There had been significant opposition to the project from the onset. Dormant for the past several months, opponents are likely to be regenerated by these visible signs of the project. These opponents have a right to their opinions and a right to express those opinions. They have every right to try to convince those in authority to change their attitudes toward the project and call it

Until there is strong evidence to the contrary, it must be assumed that opponents and proponents alike are pursuing what they feel are the best nterests of the city. Only when one is clearly acting in a manner which cannot possibly be in the best interests of the city should his motives be questioned.

I have no desire to praise the project or to ridicule it. The sewage problem here certainly warrants thorough investigation, and no irrevocable conclusion can be reached until all the evidence had been gathered and evaluated.

When such a conclusion is reached and acted upon by Council, it will undoubtedly be termed a mistake by some, regardless of which course Council chooses to follow

An obvious mistake can be made by area residents long before that time, however. Any action which distorts the evidence cannot possibly be in the best interests of the city. Nor can those who endanger the quality of the system, if it would be approved, be acting in the best interests of their fellow citizens.

There are frequent rumors that some area residents plan to refuse to allow the engineering field crews to enter their homes to make a detailed survey of the city's sewer needs. They supposedly will voice their opposition to the project by hindering the engineers'

IRA plans show returns

NEW YORK (AP)-Wage-earners who hold Individual Retirement Accounts earn substantial financial benefits in being permitted to set aside up to $1,500 a year on which taxes can be deferred.

IRAs became available last year as a means of permitting workers not covered by qualified private or government retirement plans - excluding Social Security and Railroad Retirement - to build their own retirement accounts. So far, only a very small percentage of those eligible have signed up, despite the fact that some workers might be able to accumulate in an IRA more than double the sum that could be saved in a regular, taxed account.

-For example, a single person earning $12,000 a year — the 25 per cent federal tax bracket - could accumulate $43,483 in 20 years by saving $1,500 a year at 7.5 per cent interest. But in an IRA, it would build to $73,249.

The difference is accounted for solely by the fact that interest earned in a regular savings account is taxed each year, whereas taxes on IRA accounts are delayed until retirement age, when brackets are lower, and then only as money is withdrawn.

If the same procedure of saving $1,500 a year - the maximum amount permitted under IRA regulations were followed for 25 years, the sum would be $116,605, compared with $64, 692 in a regular account.

And if the IRA were continued for 30 years, the balance would grow to $180,015, almost double the $92,974 that would accumulate in the taxed account.

The potential for even greater returns, but with an accompanying increase in the risk involved, might be available to those who choose an IRA plan in which the money is invested in securities. -What size retirement payments can be provided under such a plan? The amount will vary, depending upon contributions, the interest on the account and the duration of the IRA. In any case, the amount can be substantial, as indicated by these figures again, based on $1,500 a year at 7.5 per cent.

After 20 years with an IRA, the retirement balance would be $73,249, an amount sufficient to provide 10 years of payments at $870.35 a month, or 15 years of payments at $689.97 a month.

After 23½ years with an IRA, the balance would be about $100,000. This would permit payments for 10 years of $1,888 a month, or 15 years of $928 a month After 34 years, a $250,000 IRA would be built - again, assuming the daily compounding of 7.5 per cent interest which, however, is not guaranteed permitting monthly payments for 10 years of $2,970, or 15 years of $2,320.

Sixty-six years of Camp Fire

Since the Camp Fire Girls were founded in 1910, more than two million girls have been members. Most of those were from the United States, many were members in Great Britain and the rest were members in various other countries around the world.

Camp Fire was started 66 years ago by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Gulick. They had a camp in Maine where their three daughters and one son not only enjoyed outdoor life, but shared in the management of the camp.

The Gulicks believed that everyday life should and could be full of joy and zest with knowledge of the outdoors.

Girls can find symbolism and significance in every aspect of Camp Fire program. It calls on their imagination to interpret the symbolism and to appreciate its beauty.

The name of Camp Fire was given to the club for two reasons; because the fire on the hearth has symbolized the heart of the home since the earliest of times; and because the campfire suggests the outdoors, its beauty, and its health giving qualities of fresh air and

There is no deep dark mystery about becoming a Camp Fire Girl. A girl may join a group that has already been organized or she may form one of her own by getting together five friends and a leader.

Camp Fire was planned especially for a girl's leisure time or the time not claimed by sleeping, eating, and school. Basicly it is a plan for a girl's spare time filling it with exciting, interesting and worthwhile things to do.

The slogan for the organization is "Give Service", and their colors have traditionally been red, white and blue

The Camp Fire Law is an expression of responsibility as well as an indication of goals. It states that a girl who participates should worship God, seek beauty, give service, pursue knowledge hold onto health, glorify work and be happy.

The program is designed for girls of all ages. Girls ages six through eight may join Bluebirds, at nine to 11 they can be Adventurers; ages 12 and 13 participate in Discovery groups, and 14 to 17 year olds can join Horizon clubs. Those who wish to continue their involvement in Camp Fire may do so as assistant group

Each year the girls take part in several outings. One of the most entertaining trips last year was to the zoo and this year many of the groups plan to travel to Cincinnati to see the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey Circus.

One of the highlights of the Camp Fire Girls' yearly activities is the Grand Council Fire. At the council, the girls are recognized for their achievements and the older Bluebirds "fly up" the ranks to become full-fledged Camp Fire Girls. The council meets every Warm summer weather affords the girls an opportunity to enjoy the outdoors, and two weeks are usually spent at Camp Murdock. At the camp the girls study nature, do crafts, learn outdoor cooking, fish and take trail hikes.

Some of the craft items made by the local Camp Fire Girl groups will be on display at Craig's through Saturday.

However, entertainment is only a part of the Camp Fire Girl program. The girls also learn responsibility to each other and to their community. Their projects include selling balloons for the Heart Fund, Daffodil sales for the cancer Fund, collecting for the Community Chest. They also display a large exhibit at the Fayette County Fair each summer.

It is when these work projects become enjoyable and fulfilling that the value of Camp Fire Girls is most apparent. Enjoying the fun is easy, but finding pleasure in helping others is an accomplishment of much greater significance.

Adventure group forms 'bill of rights'

The 12 members of the Wadkita Ahneah Adventure group meet on Mondays at Rose Avenue School. Mrs. Jack Ferguson is the leader, Mrs. Earl McDaniel the assistant, and Jack Ferguson is the sponsor.

The girls have had a real busy year, and have planned some very interesting activities for this the bicentennial year. Girls have worked on bicentennial projects with "We the People," the theme for the year. The project began last March by presenting a student, teacher, and parent a "Bill of Rights and Responsibilities" at the March PTO meeting held at Rose Avenue School.

Much time was spent in the discussion of these rights and responsibilities. The girls decided that to be assured of one's rights, at school, home or anywhere, one must be a responsible citizen.

One afternoon in May, the group traveled to Camp Murdock, near South Salem, where the girls built a fire and cooked their own supper. Crafts for the fair, consisting of wood plaques with the Camp Fire Law on them, were made. Girls, who had earned beads, were given their beads at this time. The group loves the outdoors and Camp Murdock is their favorite place.

In the spring, the girls helped raise funds for the American Cancer Society by selling daffodils, Girls also marched in the Memorial Day Parade and made a tour of Pennington Bakery.

June was the month for Day Camp. Nine members attended and worked on their first step in the "Progression in Outdoor Action." All nine girls earned the "Fire Tender" patch. They learned things about hiking, how to measure distances by paces, knot tying, use and care of a jackknife, outdoor cooking, fire building and fire safety.

July and August were vacation months, but with the beginning of school in September, the group once again started holding regular meetings. Plans were made to attend the Fall Pow-Wow at Camp Murdock on the weekend of Oct. 4. The new skills learned at Camp Murdock were put to

The girls spent the evening around a campfire singing songs, popping corn and talking. A worship service was held on Sunday morning.

October was a busy month with the United Way drive and the Grand Council Fire was at Washington Middle School auditorium. Eleven members became "Wood Gatherers" and two became "Trail Seekers," the first step on the Camp Fire trail. Girls were presented awards earned during the previous year.

The first weekend in November the girls helped distribute literature for the Fayette Progressive School levy. November is also the month for the annual Camp Fire candy sale, the main fund-raising event. In addition, this group and the I Yo Tan group from Belle-Aire School, sponsored a skating party

Rose Avenue School PTO Carnival was held this month, and the Girls in the Waditka Ahneah Adventure group handled all the publicity and made wall decorations in the bicentennial theme. On the night of the Carnival, the group cleaned the tables the entire evening.

The only event in December was the Christmas party, when the girls went to the Blue Drummer Steak House for dinner, then to the home of Mrs. Earl McDaniel for the gift exchange.

McDaniel for the gift exchange.
February, Heart Month, was a busy one, and all sold heart balloons. Plans for the Birthday Week were also made and the girls kept busy during the remainder of the time, working on projects for the Fayette County Fair.

Honor beads awarded The Ke Ko So An Ge La Ha Camp Fire group has nine girls ranging from the fourth grade level to freshmen in high school. The group is located in New Holland.

The members have participated in several fund-raising enterprises during the year and the proceeds were donated to charities.

During the summer months, the group spends a good deal of its time working on honor bead projects. These projects can be an individual effort or a group undertaking.

Each project earns one bead in the related field, and each field has a different color. When a girl has completed 10 projects in one color group, she receives a large bead of that color

Some of the activities which led to honor beads in community service included selling balloons for the Heart Fund, selling poppies for Veterans Day and working at New Holland Cemetery.

Members of the group are Lisa Slager, Lori Landman, Aline Kuhn, Pamela Smith, Mary Oesterle, Sheila Carroll, Jodine Longberry, Rose Royster and Lori Hawkins. Mrs. Clyde Root serves as adult leader

The To-Lo-Li-Ma-Ki Adventure girls are members of the fifth and sixth grades of Rose Avenue Elementary School and the Washington Middle

The group is comprised of Rhonda Penn, Julie Lloyd, Shelia Ferguson, Diane Bellar, Patty Bellar, Renee Hamilton, and Kellie Zinn.

Since the girls leave school at different times, meetings are held at the Eastside Elementary School cafeteria evey Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. The meeting usually lasts two hours.

The group started out in February of 1975 by helpings with the Heart Fund balloon sale. Some of the girls not only blew up the balloons, but also helped to sell them on the streets. This activity helped earn the girls to Ho To Se (Hours to Serve) award.

In July, six of the girls helped with Headstart children on a tour of Fayette county Fair

In October, four of the girls helped with the Community Chest Drive. Later in the month, six of the girls passed out literature for the Fayette Progressive School tax levy. Two girls collected for cystic fybrosis.

In February of this year, six memmade St. Patrick's Day decorations for the V.A. hospital in Chillicothe

Symboligrams used to name girls' groups

The Odakoya Adventure Group has recently been working on their symboligram to signify their group name which means "friendship together" The symbol that the fifth grade girls have selected to represent the meaning of their name consists of a white cross which stands for the purity and truthfulness of real friendship, and reaching hands, an Indian symbol, done in red feld for warmth, which means togetherness. The symbol was put on the backs of their ceremonial jackets. In the future they will be making head bands for their ceremonial costumes.

The group, which was recently reorganized and is now under the direction of a new leader, Mrs. Ronald Dowler, has taken part in the Community Chest Drive and also the Heart Fund Drive. By participating in these events the girls are earning hours towards their Ho-To-See Award.

During the Christmas season the girls worked on ceramic cups and learned how to fire and decorate them. In May the group will be going on the Camp Fire annual trip and then they will attend camp in June in order to earn their outdoor living awards.

The Odakoya Adventure Group is sponsored by Mr. Ronald L. Dowler and meets every Wednesday in the

In May, 1975, sponsors and leaders spent a Saturday at Lesourdesville Lake amusement park. Traveling by bus, the girls took picnic lunches and departed from the Washington Senior High School at 8:30 a.m. and arrived home by 5 p.m.

In June, five of the girls attended Camp Murdock for the annual five-day Day Camp, with Thursday night being the overnight stay. A hayride and snipe hunt were part of the the night's activities. Also during the night, a program was featured in which parents were invited to receive camp patches and certificates.

September saw plans implemented in which the group attended the fall Pow-Wow, also held at Camp Murdock. During the week-end the girls cooked their meals over an open fire. The Saturday noon meal consisted of sloppy joe sandwiches, potato chips and pop. Saturday evening, New York strip steaks were served, with french fries, french bread, tossed salad, and pop. At midnight, pizza was served with pop.

On Sunday morning of the week-end bacon, scrambled eggs, toast, and hot chocolate were served, followed by church services. Afterwards, everyone cleaned up the camp site and returned home around 1 p.m.

In October, the girls attended the annual Paint Valley Grand Council Fire at the Middle School in which the girls received awards for their sevice

'Learning about bees' Posy Garden Club topic

The Posy Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Jess Schlichter for an conservation meeting, "Learning About Bees." Mr. J. W. Sears of Honey Acres in northern Fayette County brought an observation hive filed with busy bees. He explained that bees were probably on the earth before man. The pioneers treasured a 'Bee tree' (hives were not used until 1850), bees were followed as they made a "bee line" for their tree. The trees were usually felled and the honey stored in stone jars for use as sweetening and medicine; many uses were also found for the wax.

He explained that about 60,000 bees lived in the hive, with these divided into one-third as field bees and two-thirds as "house bees" and one queen to a hive. The young queen takes a "virgin flight," where she mates with drones and will be fertile for life. She lays nearly 2,000 eggs a day. Young bees hatch the middle of March, usually, and Mr. Sears pointed out some just emerging from the cells in the observation hive.

Poison sprays can destroy a hive. Bees are of great value to nearly every seed producing plant or tree. Farmers can safely spray in early morning before bees start working. Bees are of great value to fruit growers. Honey is marketed as comb or extracted - with most of it now extracted. The kind of flowers from which the bees collect the nectar affects the flavor of the honey

Mrs. Schlichter had an exhibit of cedar branches from which small bumble bee size beeds had crawled. Mr. Sears identified them as "carpenter bees.

Mrs. Albert Bihl, secretary, read a letter from Mrs. Louis Baer concerning the Historical Style Show and Colonial Tea on April 4 at the Mahan Building. All proceeds will go towards the creative living project for the handicapped.

Mrs. Schlichter attended the recent Presidents' Council meeting at which time plans were completed for the Beautification of Mailbox and Flower Box" contest.

The contest is being conducted by the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs in the county, and a trip to Shakertown, Ky. in September. Mrs. Albert Bihl and Mrs. Frank Barrett, committee for the Ecology Poster Contest, are making plans for the contest with the fifth grade of Madison Mills School in April. The pupils in this grade are also making a Bicentennial quilt and Mrs. Lyle Hanawalt has been teaching them embroidery stitches.

The craft for the Fayette Progressive School class this week will be Hex symbols, explained by Mrs. Schlichter with other members telling 'what we learned about bees' this week.

Mrs. Arthur Schlichter read a paper on "Natures Insecticides," telling of beneficial and harmful insects. The friendly insects help to keep the balance of nature. Chemicals are needed with careful use and some newer controls are synthetic hormones. sterilants, stimulants and systemics. Besides bees, some useful insects are lady-beetle, many spiders, dragon fly, lace wing and robber flies. Birds are also one of natures ways of controlling insects

Plans were completed for the club's annual Open Meeting April 21 in the annex of the Madison Mills United Methodist Church. Mr. Don Mortenson of Columbus will demonstrate "How to dwarf shrub or tree to create an ornamental bonsai." There will be no charge and anyone wanting to learn this interesting hobby may attend by calling Mrs. J. Schlichter or any member of the Posey Garden Club.

, . . . Garden clubs Presidents'Council to conduct mail box contest

Fayette County Garden Club Presidents' Council met Tuesday at Anderson's Restaurant for a noon luncheon and meeting. Following the noon meal, the meeting was opened by the County Contact Chairman Mrs. Willard Bitzer. The minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report were both given by Mrs. James Braun.

The first topic of discussion was the County Fair Flower Show to be held from Thursday, July 29 to Saturday, July 31 at the Fayette County Fair. Rules and schedule were read for final approval by the group before being printed in the Fair Book. Mrs. Robert Wilson is the Garden Club member in charge. The Twin Oaks Garden Club will provide an educational exhibit and a commercial exhibit will be in charge of Mrs. Barbara Anders of Anders Greenhouse

The Bicentennial mail box contest was discussed and it was decided to include Flower Boxes in the city and Mail Boxes in the county in the competition. Closing date for entry will be May 30 and judging will be June 30, with winners being announced and awards presented the week of July 4. Mrs. Edwin Thompson will act as chairman of this contest and will have two representatives from each Garden Club assisting her as contest judges. The contest is open to the public and anyone interested is invited to contact Thompson for further in-

A bus trip by all the Garden Clubs in the county was discussed and Mrs. James Braun appointed to be chairman of arrangements for a fall trip to Shakertown, Kentucky, possibly the middle of September.

The Spring Regional Meeting was announced for May 13 in Highland

County, place to announced later. August 10, 11 and 12 will be the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs annual meeting at Otterbein College at

Other dates announced were: Posey Garden Club Open Meeting at the Madison Mills Methodist Church, April 21, topic to be "Bonsai" (The public is invited); and Gardeners' Day Out, May 20, Hocking Hills at Logan, Ohio.

The Fall Regional Meeting which will be held in Fayette County in October Mrs. Arthur Schlichter was appointed chairman for this.

The next meeting of the group will be determined by the Contact Chairman and called accordingly.

Those in attendance Tuesday were: Mrs. Bitzer and Mrs. Edwin Thompson of Fayette Garden Club; Mrs. Robert Wilson and Mrs. Dale Merritt of Washington Garden Club; Mrs. James Braun, Twin Oaks Garden Club: Mrs. Jesse Schlichter, Posey Garden Club and Mrs. Dwight Duff, Town and Country Garden Club.

Judge Schwart CCL speaker

Judge Omar Schwart was guest speaker when the Delta Child Conservation League met in the home of Mrs. Wilbur Rapp. Judge Schwart spoke on the "Moral Development of the Child." He stressed discipline, supervision and guidance, and said that one must 'be a parent, not a pal.'

'What Makes a Family" and "Time for Beauty" were read by Mrs. Wilbur Fleming for devotions

Mrs. Wilbur Braun reported on the philanthropic projects of the league, and that the members would contribute to the American Field Service exchange programs at both Miami Trace and Washington Senior High Schools, 4-H, CCL scholarship fund, and the United Church Women.

The Spring CCL banquet was announced for May 5, to be held at the Washington Country Club. Reservations must be made by May 1.

Peace Corps member to talk

"The Philippines" an illustrated lecture will be presented on Sunday, March 28 at 2:30 p.m. in the Meeting Hall of Kingwood Center, Mansfield, Ohio. The program will be presented by Mr. Bill Manz, a member of the Peace Corps. This is the third talk in this year's Family Lecture Series sponsored by Kingwood. It is open to the public free of charge.

Mr. Manz, a Richland County native spent two years in the back country of the Philippines serving as an "extension agent." His lesture will concentrate on his experiences with the rural natives of the back provinces of the Philippines; their life-styles, farming methods, traditions, and beliefs.

Bill Manz, currently working towards a master's degree in agricultural economics at Ohio State University, is also serving as a student counselor for the Peace Corps. In this capacity, he advises students regarding Peace Corps work. Manz's wife, Ana, is a native of the Philippines.

The Kingwood greenhouse and indoor light gardening display will be open from 8:00 a.m. to sunset. The greenhouse is especially beautiful at this time of the year with forced spring bulbs and other flowering plants. There may be a large number of spring bulbs in bloom on the Kingwood grounds if moderate weather continues. They are about three weeks ahead of normal this year because of the unseasonably warm weather Mansfield has had.

Kingwood Center is located in the western part of Mansfield and is easily accessible from U.S. 30 at Trimble Road exit or from Ohio Route 13.

FATHER CONNELLY

Father Connelly guest speaker at F-S banquet

'Fathers, you must take some time from your busy day and do things with your children," was the advice given by the Rev. Father Richard J. Connelly, who addressed fathers and sons from New Holland, Atlanta and Hebron Methodist churches recently. He also emphasized the value of spending time together "now" as later, for children will look back and cherish these memories

Father Connelly also pointed out that families who attend church together and take an interest in sports, though not necessarily participating, are less likely to become involved in some sort of trouble. He encouraged the boys to develop their interests and talents in an area that appeals to them, then give it their all, because what one gets out of life is in direct proportion to the effort that one puts into it, he said.

An evening meal served by members of the Young Adult Class of the New Holland United Methodist Church, was served to 76 persons. Red, white and blue table decorations carried out the Bicentennial theme. Another highlight of the evening was a puppet show featuring the Peanuts Gang, given by Mrs. Karen Amey of New Holland.

Hickory Lane Fellowship

President Mrs. Robert Johnson conducted the Hickory Lane Ladies Fellowship meeting held at the church this week. 'Thirst' was the word used in Scripture in response to roll call. 'Sketches' was the topic of devotions presented by Mrs. Bertha Riley. Mrs. Fred Tracy, Mrs. Keith Wooley and Mrs. Merlin Kaser were appointed to a committee to prepare Fellowship booklets. "Virtues" is the theme chosen for devotions for the year. Hostesses for the year were decided,

and the Easter breakfast was discussed. Serving on this committee are Mrs. Rusty Bainter, Mrs. Paul Keller and Miss Susan Bainter. Cookbooks will be made for the annual Mother-Daughter banquet, and recipes for these must be given to Mrs. Kaser by March 28. Assisting Mrs. Kaser will be Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Bainter, Mrs. Ethel Long, Miss Bainter and Mrs. Gary Kinzer.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. George Pierce and Mrs. Keller to Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Bainter, Mrs. Gary Kinzer, Mrs. Frank Kinzer, Mrs. Rosa Brannon, Mrs. George DeWeese, Mrs. Willard Bainter, Miss Bainter, Mrs. Kaser and Tina, Mrs. Fred Tracy, Mrs. Tom VanDyne, Mrs. William Briggs, Mrs. Keith Wooley, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Hubert Lucas and Mrs. Johnson.

Martin Smith, Miami Trace Road, was elected President of the Fayette County Pork Producers at the board of director's meeting Tuesday evening at the Extension Office. Smith succeeds Bob Taylor, formerly of Prairie Road.

Other officers elected were vice president David Owens of Jeffersonville, secretary Roger Donohoe, Rt. 1, Mt. Sterling; and treasurer Fred Ehlerding, Miami Trace Road.

In other business the directors reviewed the annual meeting and the winter carcass evaluation. It was reported that the winter carcass evaluation under the direction of Jerry Hoppes had the largest participation of recent years.

Directors also reviewed plans for the up coming membership drive for the Ohio and National Pork Producers

Council. Ted Waddle, Prairie Road, was appointed chairman of the membership committee. The first phase of the membership drive will be by mail to re-sign current members of the association

Following the regular business meeting the Executive Committee appointed committee chairmen for 1976. They are Ron Warner, pork promotion; Dr. R.D. Little and Dr. Robert Schwartz, health; Charlie Andrews, youth promotion; Jerry Hoppes, banquet; Richard Wood, winter carcass show; Gene Gustin and Alan Wilt, county market hog show and sale; Joe Jordan, Rick Shephard and Lee Rowe, pork concession stand; and Dave Owens, Buckeye barrow show

Religious book reaches pinnacle

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

Lot went with him. -Genesis 12: 4

AP Religion Writer Sometimes NEW YORK (AP) religious books far outsell the widely touted, so-called "best sellers," but never show up on the lists because of practices in the trade. But a current religious number has hit such a peak that it has broken into nearly all the front-runner listings.

Abram and Lot Go to Egypt

So Abram departed, as the LORD had spoken unto him; and E

Among the legion of Noah's descendants was one Terah, direct in line from the patriarch's son Shem. Terah had a son, Abram, who had found special favor with the Lord. And so it was that, upon the death of Terah, God commanded Abram to leave Haran, his birthplace, and travel with his family to a land which He would show them. That land, as was later shown to Abram in a dream,

It's "Angels: God's Secret Agents," by evangelist Billy Graham, with 1,210,000 copies distributed since it came out last fall.

"It's the fastest selling book we've ever had, and to the best of our knowledge, that anybody's ever had,' Alex Liepa, an editor of Doubleday company Nevertheless, it's one of the few religious books to push into the major 'best-selling" lists, even though such books often beat those listed in national sales and popularity among American readers, and though sales of religious books lately have climbed faster than other categories.

Jennifer Byron, of Nashville, Tenn., a Baptist Book Stores communications specialist who has made an extensive study of the situation, says: The fact that books designed for a specific market may not get on a bestseller list even though they sell as many copies as those that do gives the public a wrong picture of what books are really selling. One reason mentioned for the disparity is that compilers of the lists generally don't check with religious books stores, of which there are more than 3,500 in the country. Other factors also apparently figure in the problem. including a tendency not to consider religious books in the general nonfiction category. "To say the best-seller lists are inaccurate is to put it mildly." says

Liepa, citing various religious books that don't make the lists while selling far more than secular numbers which Peter Kladder of Zondervan Corp., a big religious publishing house in Grand Rapids, Mich., which recently opened new multimillion-dollar manufacturing and warehousing facilities there, says:

"I'm convinced that if there was a really good system of determining sales, a third of the books on the bestseller lists would be 'religious'.

For example, more than 30 religious books in the last five years have had sales exceeding one million, outdoing most "best sellers", but without making the "best-seller" lists. The superseller of them all, a paraphrase of Scripture called "The Living Bible" by Kenneth Taylor, has sold more than 18 million in that period, 3 million of them in a Doubleday edition only in general trade stores, but made few top-selling

Over-all, religious book sales have gone up 16.6 per cent since 1967, compared to an over-all book publishing gain of less than 10 per cent, the Association of American Publishers

LOCATED: Just east of Washington C. H., Ohio, at the edge of the Industrial Park and being just west of the State Route 753 and Old Chillicothe Road intersection, along the B & O Railroad, fronting on Robinson Road with the address of 1534. All tracts are in Union Township, Fayette County, Ohio, and zoned for industry and commercial business. All survey measures are from the highway right-of-way and not from the center line of this highway. To be sold in

TRACT I: 4.0 acres with main set of buildings. 567" frontage on Robinson Road and 307' in depth IMPROVEMENTS: A nearly century-old two-story brick residence with basement. Downstairs has five rooms and full bath. Upstairs has three bedrooms and storage rooms. Large basement with fuel oil furnace. Drilled well and approved septic system. Three-room brick building (in back) consists of milk house, summer kitchen, and meat room. Other farm buildings are 30' x 40' barn, livestock sheds, implement sheds, granary, garage, etc. You may find

Approximately .4 mile road frontage. Nearly all crop land (now in pasture) except the west side is in bluegrass, and has stream flowing through this area. No buildings. This should really excite the investment buyers. Be sure to attend

TRACT III: 14.53 acres of land. Frontage is .7 mile on the north side of Robinson Road, and also being on the south side of the B & O Railroad. Buildings include small tenant house. This very handy small acreage could accept so many assignments for small business ventures.

This entire 155.69 acre farm has been appraised $233,535.00. Taxes for 1975 are $638.30 per year.

Students attend conference

The weekend of March 5-6, Miss Susie Bailey, Miss Carol Clements, teachers at Washington Senior High School as well as students Diana Stackhouse and Crista Creamer were privileged to attend the State Leadership Conference of Future Business Leaders of

The convention was held in Cleveland for the Future Business Leaders of America clubs around the state. It consisted of students competing in skilled subjects such as shorthand, typing and business math. None of the students in the Washington C.H. chapter at FBLA were eligible to compete, because this is the first year for their club.

The convention consisted of a general session in which voting for state officers took place. With Diana Stackhouse working as Crista Creamer's campaign manager, Crista, was elected state reporter.

As state reporter, Crista will gather information from all FBLA clubs in the state to put into a newsletter to be sent to all members.

Diana also attended a fashion show given by Glamour Magazine at one of the Cleveland stores

When the election of the President was thrown into the House of Representatives in 1825 for a choice between John Quincy Adams and Andrew Jackson, Ohio's electoral votes went to Adams who became the sixth President of the United States. Originally in the election of 1824 Ohio's vote had gone to Henry Clay.

On Saturday night, March 6th a formal banquet was held for induction of officers. The four returned to Washington C.H. on Sunday, March

"We all enjoyed it and hope more people will join FBLA," Miss Bailey said. She outlined the history of FBLA, saving "it has been giving students an opportunity for 25 years to compete with others from all over the U.S. in events ranging from typing to overall problem solving and awareness

She added that all this is in hope of creating in students a sense of responsibility and preparing them for careers in business. Miss Bailey also noted that "collegebound students join FBLA and there is an extension for them when they attend college.

As a matter of local interest, Miss Bailey indicated that chapters all over country work closely with businesses in local communities, working toward developing business leaders for the future.

'Annie Get Your Gun' rehearsal

Cast begins shooting for April 23 curtain

This year Washington Senior High School is preparing the musical comedy "Annie Get Your Gun. It will be presented April 23 and 24.

The two main characters in the play are Annie Oakley and Frank Butler. Miss Toni Conley will play the role of Annie, and the leading male role of Butler will be portrayed by Mike McDonald.

Frank Butler seems to be a most interesting character. He is the star of a wild west show, and is what Mike calls a "rhinestone cowboy." Butler thinks a lot of himself, and he hates to be beaten especially by women. Naturally, Annie Oakley proves to be a challenge for him. As the play progresses, though, he finds that Annie means more to him than just a com-

be beaten. He has a stubborn streak in him that won't let him give up. Thus, he is able to play the past of Butler, identifying with the character. After studying and rehearsing the part for so many hours, Mike often finds it difficult to disengage his own personality from that of Butler's. Mike practices his lines and songs at home, as well as rehearsing with the cast almost every day. He must practice voice tone and accent as well for Butler has a decidedly old west, dude-type accent. As the date of the play draws nearer, Mike is beginning to get somewhat apprehensive. As he puts it: "I'm really pleased and excited that I was chosen to play this part, and I'll do the best I can. Shrine Circus set to open in Dayton attend the 34th edition of the Antioch Shrine Circus in Dayton Hara Arena which starts today and runs through

According to Earl D. Creager, Sr. ringmaster Lucky Larabee will herald the start of each of the 32 acts engulfing the line-up of stars. Hubert Tarzan Zerbini, with his world renowned wild animal act, will start these performances with 18 lions and tigers. Zerbini, who works without any of the usual equipment of the wild animal trainer, such as a gun, chair or whip. He depends entirely upon the superb training he has given his animals and his total command while in the arena.

Jerry Brown may enter Ohio race

may be poised to become a candidate in under party rules for not complying Ohio's June 8 presidential primary with the established procedure for election, but has little time left to selection of delegate-candidates. commit himself to the race.

State Democratic chairman Paul Tipps says Brown campaign aides have contacted him about making the race. And, some Ohio supporters of former Peace Corps director R. Sargent Shriver say they are prepared to switch their allegiance to the California Democrat.

But Brown, contacted in Sacramento, said he knows nothing about anyone acting on his behalf in contacting Shriver supporters or attempting to enter the Ohio primary.

A Brown candidacy at this point would be difficult since Brown has only six days to organize before Ohio's filing

'I think that it is possible, but it may be impractical," Tipps said. He said Brown would have to begin organizing immediately if he hopes to make the Ohio race.

Tipps said he was contacted by Brown campaign aides on Monday. He said he advised the aides that

Local Landmark man recognized

An employe of Favette Landmark Inc., has received congratulations and a diploma from Landmark Seed and Fertilizer Division headquarters upon completion of the blend plant operator's school.

John Sowders, who was one of the 22 persons who took the intensive course, attended sessions which covered fertilizer and pesticide laws; blending facilities; materials in the plant; fertilizer distribution and ordering; materials application; recommendations; formulations and blending and equipment operation and maintenance.

The course was designed to help Landmark blend operators serve fertilizer customers better.

Cincy orchestra visits Wilmington

Eduardo Mata, artistic director of the National Symphony in Mexico City, who made his debut with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra at Music Hall in December, will conduct the orchestra on four-performance Area Artist Series tour in Southern Ohio.

He will conduct concerts at Hermann Court, Wilmington College at 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 24, and also at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, March 23 at Hillsboro High School. Appearances will also be made in Portsmouth and Centerville.

State party rules required statewide and district caucuses last week to select candidates to run for Ohio's 152 delegate seats. But the legal deadline for filing candidacy petitions is not until 4 p.m. next Thursday,

To compete for all the delegate seats, Brown would have to recruit 38 delegate-candidates to run on an atlarge slate, then another 114 candidates to run under his name on 23 district

Diane Bonar, Ohio coordinator for the Shriver campaign, which died after Shriver's dismal performance in Tuesday's Illinois primary, confirmed that candidates on at least one district slate are ready to switch to Brown.

Maple sap flows again

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) - The sap has started to flow once more from maple trees in Geauga County as a result of recent cold temperatures and farmers expect to save what might have been a dismal harvest.

Unusually warm weather in February had caused maple tree release darker sap than usual. This sap made an inferior type of maple syrup, farmers here say

The trees began to release clearer sap with the advent of the recent cold weather and the farmers expect to make the "fancy-quality" syrup they are accustomed to.

The warm temperatures also had made some maple trees bud and that prevents the trees from releasing sap.

Fayette County jury lists drawn by commission

Fayette County jury commissioners have drawn names for the April term of Common Pleas Court.

The 100 potential grand jurors and 700 potential petit jurors are eligible for jury duty from April 1 through Aug. 31. A new list of names will then be drawn

The names below are potential jurors only. They will be notified by mail if they are actually to be called for jury duty. The court asks that potential jurors not call the office to give reasons why they cannot serve until they are actually called for a specific date.

The 800 names drawn from a list of all Fayette County residents who voted in the past general election are included below

Baby pacifier recalled

Consumer Product Safety Commission in cooperation with La Cibeles, Inc. of Union City, New Jersey has announced the recall of approximately 37,000 baby pacifiers known as "Chupetes" (pacifiers) which may pose a substantial product hazard.

The pacifiers are marketed in four series marked "Fauna," "Flower," "Texas," and "Navy." They are imported from Spain and are usually sold in plastic and cardboard casings with pictures on the backing and the name of the series in large letters on the top. The pacifier sells for approximately 45 cents.

The Commission learned of the hazard through the death of a fivemonth old boy in New York in mid-February. The plastic shield caught in the child's throat and death was caused by complications ensuing from asphyxia.

The pacifiers are approximately 2 inches long with a 1 inch soft rubber nipple and a flexible plastic saucershaped shield at the base of the nipple approximately one and one-half inches in diameter. The handle of the pacifier is in the shape of either an animal head, a flower, a baby with a cowboy hat or a baby with a sailor cap.

The shield is marked "Made in Spain" in small molded letters. They are usually displayed for sale on a large cardboard sign with markings similar to those on the package. The work "Chupete" appears on the

The pacifiers have been distributed primarily in New York, New Jersey,

Indiana, Marquette wins set up NCAA heavyweight match

AP Sports Writer

Indiana and Marquette have scrambled into college basketball's heavyweight championship 10 days too

The Hoosiers, unbeaten and ranked No. 1, outfought Alabama 74-69 and the Warriors, once-beaten and ranked No. 2, struggled past Western Michigan 62-57 in the Mideast regional of the NCAA Tournament Thursday night at Baton Rouge, La. That puts college basketball's two top-rated clubs in the regional finals Saturday. The survivor goes into the final four and the loser goes nowhere, a victim of the draw.

Neither coach was overly impressed with his team's showing.

'Tough, wasn't it?," asked Indiana's Bobby Knight after his club ran its season record to 29-0 with the help of Scott May's clutch basket with 2:01 remaining. "If he doesn't hit the basket and put us ahead, we're in a very difficult position.

"Marquette never looks good," grumbled Warriors' Coach Al McGuire after baskets by Butch Lee, Jerome Whitehead and Bo Ellis finally turned back stubborn Western Michigan.

While Indiana and Marquette struggled to victory, the lineups for Saturday's other three regional finals were completed.

-UCLA, 25-4, goes against Arizona 24-8, in the West at Los Angeles. The Bruins beat Pepperdine 70-61 and Arizona stunned No. 3 Nevada-Las Vegas 114-109 in overtime.

-Rutgers, 30-0, faces VMI, 22-9, in the East at Greensboro, N.C. Rutgers trimmed Connecticut 93-79 and VMI outlasted DePaul 71-66 in overtime. -Missouri, 26-4, meets Michigan, 23-

6, at Louisville, Ky. Missouri defeated Texas Tech 86-75 and Michigan overcame Notre Dame 80-76.

Only eight teams remain of the 32 that set out after the NCAA crown last week. After Saturday's games the final four will head for Philadelphia where the semifinals will be held a week from

But some observers think the title will be decided this Saturday in Baton Rouge when mighty Indiana and almost-asmighty Marquette collide. Both will be hoping for better showings than they made Thursday night.

Indiana fought off a strong Alabama team with the help of May's clutch bucket and two free throws apiece by Tom Abernethy and Bob Wilkerson down the stretch. The tenacious Hoosier defense held the Crimson Tide scoreless over the final 3:57 of the game and limited highly-regarded Alabama center Leon Douglas to 12

In the East, No. 4 Rutgers ran off nine straight points early in the second pressured Connecticut into several turnovers and won going away. Freshman Abdel Anderson came off the bench to score 19 points and pull down 11 rebounds, and Mike Dabney and Ed Jordan added 18 points each for the Scarlet Knights.

VMI, the dark horse among the eight remaining teams, blew an 11-point lead n regulation time before subduing De-Paul in overtime. Will Bynum scored 22 points and Ron Carter had 21 for the Keydets while Ron Norwood had 23 for the Blue Demons.

There were 57 personal fouls called in the game and DePaul lost five players on fouls.

Sam Smith had 26 points for the Rebels who wound up 29-2.

In the Midwest, Willie Smith pumped in 30 points, mostly on long-range jump shots, to carry 14th-ranked Missouri past 16thranked Texas Tech. "Smith was everything we heard he was." said Tech Coach Gerald Myers. "He was hitting those 25-footers and they weren't set shots. They were jumpers.

Missouri pulled away early in the second half and Tech's comeback hopes evaporated when center Rick Bullock, who had 23 points, fouled out with nine minutes left.

No. 9 Michigan overcame No. 7 Notre Dame on the strength of two free throws by Steve Grote and two more by Rickey Green in the final seconds. The Irish, behind Adrian Dantley's 31 points, led most of the way before a slew of turnovers down the stretch proved fatal.

"We had a lot of poise out there," said Michigan Coach Johnny Orr. "These kids never quit. We played more aggressively in the second half and that was the key for us.

Floyd turns golf, lifestyle around

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) - Ray Floyd, once one of pro golf's most flamboyant, swinging bachelors, has turned his life-style around.

And with it, he's turned his golf game

'I was a pretty haphazard guy,' Floyd recalled Thursday after a solid, four-under-par 68 provided him with a tie for the lead in the first round of the $175,000 Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament

"I was making a lot of money, at least enough to live pretty good. If I played bad, so what? There was always next week.

"I really didn't even much like playing golf. It was just a way to make a living, a way to get from town to town, a way to get from week to week. I really didn't care about anything. It was just a way to go.

And Floyd made a very good living and lived it high - with his happy-golucky attitude. He reached the peak in 1969 when he won the PGA national championship, two other tournaments and more than $100,000. Then it stopped. Nothing happened. His natural talent kept him going, but nothing important happened. He didn't win again

Charlotte over an Atlantic Coast Conference team and obviously gave the 49ers' basketball program a shot in the arm. But it may provide future scheduling difficulties for the upstart 49ers who are attempting to upgrade themselves in the shadow of the ACC.

'They're going to have a harder time getting games with Atlantic Coast Conference teams now," said Sloan.

The crowd of 11.444 really got its money's worth. The fans were still limp from the first game when Johnson raced down the court at breakneck speed and laid in a spectacular shot as time ran out. The Wildcats lost leads of 18 points in the first half and 11 in the second, then pulled it out after the Friars had gone ahead 79-78 with seven seconds remaining.

"Johnson was going 100 miles an hour for the basket," said Providence Coach Dave Gavitt. "We just couldn't

Nate Thurmond tops 14,000 rebounds

CLEVELAND (AP) — Nate Thurmond, a 13-year veteran of National Basketball Association play, passed another milestone in his career Thursday night when he became only the fourth player in NBA history to go over 14,000 rebounds.

The 6-foot-11 center, who played his college ball at Bowling Green University, pulled down eight rebounds in Cleveland's 110-104 victory over the Philadelphia 76ers

Robinson quietly starts 2nd season

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Cleveland Indians Manager Frank Robinson finished the first day of spring training Thursday and said, "The biggest difference was that I didn't have three microphones in my face all the time."

The second-year manager of the Indians was referring to last spring when he made his much-publicized debut as the first black major league manager. Asked if the virtual lack of attention this year bothered him, Robinson smiled and said, "No, I don't feel neglected. I like it fine just the way it is."

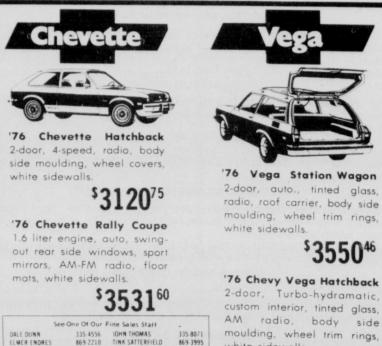

Philadelphia Flyers top Canucks, 3-2

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia Flyers tied a National Hockey League success record and the Kansas City Scouts set a club record for failure, but neither feat was easy ... the Flyers had to erase a two-goal deficit and the Scouts had to blow a two-goal lead.

The Flyers ran their unbeaten streak to 23 games by nipping the Vancouver Canucks 3-2 as Reggie Leach scored his 54th goal of the season, most ever by a right wing in the NHL. Meanwhile, the Scouts' winless skein reached 17 games when they lost to the Boston Bruins 5-2. In the only other game, the Detroit Red Wings trounced the St. Louis Blues 6-3

The Indianapolis Racers and San Diego Mariners tied 4-4 in the only World Hockey Association contest.

"It feels good to get my uniform on," said Pete Rose, captain of the world

Rose, like many major leaguers, had worked out on his own at a local Little League field, waiting for the camps to be opened. When Kuhn gave the word, most teams held at least cursory workouts Thursday with players streaming into camps in Florida, to New York following a week of talks in Florida that was climaxed by the owners "best and final offer." That proposal included, for the first time, acknowledgement by the owners of recently-won free agent rights for the

Marvin Miller, executive director of the players association, had expressed displeasure with many aspects of the owners' document and said he would recommend rejection by the union's executive board.

Reportedly, the player representatives voted 17-5 to reject the offer. But instead of an outright turndown, they decided on a softer position, neither rejecting nor accepting the owners' offer but calling instead for further negotiation and opening of the camps.

"It was a good, thoughtful meeting," said Miller. "The players understood the problems and they understood the proposal. It was the strangest 'last proposal' anybody ever got, with 14 items listed 'to be discussed.' There was a positive mood and a firmness about what they believe.

The players, however, have insisted on the same blanket free agent rights awarded to pitchers Andy Messersmith and Dave McNally by an impartial arbitrator and upheld by two federal courts. That status permits bidding by all 24 major league clubs, a right Messersmith is currently exercising.

The players also suggested that the two sides seek assistance from the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. That government agency has informed both sides that it stands ready to enter the dispute if requested by

Meanwhile, the negotiators retreated

One of the key points in the owners' offer was the right for every player to become a free agent in 1976 or 1977. They would then be eligible for a special draft conducted by eight teams, picking in inverse order of the previous season's standings.

Following the executive board meeting, however, Miller indicated, the players might accept some modified free agent rule — something less than the 24-team bidding but more than the eight bottom teams the owners have

Ford's dog becoming canine star

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Ford's Golden Retriever. Ford's dog Liberty has apparently reached a canine star status approaching Lassie or Rin Tin Tin. Twolegged and four-legged fans are writing the White House in increasing numbers asking for paw-autographed pictures of Public demand for these pictures by dog lovers has reached the point where the White House has had a special rubber stamp cut with the smeared imprint of the First Dog's paw.

It's usually accompanied by a letter from the President's 18-year-old daughter, Susan, telling the recipient the paw print is in fact stamped on because Liberty would have a sore foot if she had to autograph each request

Liberty often gets letters written in the first person from other dogs telling the President's pooch how they think Ford is doing in office or how much they like the First Lady. One letter addressed to Liberty Ford, care of the White House, said, "If you are ever traveling to Meridian, Miss., I would appreciate it if you would stop and we could pick a bone or drink some coffee together." It was signed, "Folly Till," with a dog's footprint.

Susan Ford and a member of First Lady Betty Ford's staff handle all of Liberty's pawtographed photos.

Once, right after Liberty had her nine puppies last autumn, the photo requests were so numerous that Susan Ford was busy for two weeks trying to fill them, according to one White House

Now the White House is getting about 20 requests a week for photographs of President Ford and his dog with the dog's paw-tograph

High speed chase nets 3 citations

After an early morning high speed chase along Ohio 41-S, a Greenfield man was apprehended by Fayette County sheriff's deputies and charged with three traffic violations. A car driven by Jerry M. Purdin, 27, of Greenfield, went left of center on Ohio 41 near Washington-New Martinsburg Road, just missing Deputy Sheriff David Krupla who was headed north on Ohio 41. After a high speed chase, Purdin was apprehended around 12:15 a.m. Friday, in Greenfield, and charged with reckless operation, fleeing a police officer, and speeding.

A collision at the corner of Gregg and Pearl Streets caused severe damage to two vehicles Thursday afternoon. Washington C. H. police officers reported that a car driven by Tami J. Welsh, 17, of Bloomingburg, failed to halt at a stop sign on the corner of Gregg and Pearl Streets. Her car reportedly pulled into the path of Alan Anschutz, 17, of Bloomingburg, at 3:10 p.m. Thursday, and a collision resulted. There was severe damage to both vehicles. The Fayette County Sheriff's Department investigated a 12:30 a.m. Friday accident in which three mailboxes located along the Washington-New Martinsburg Road near Ohio 41 were damaged. A car driven by Sterley O. Lightner, 26, of

Additional 24-unit apartment complex approved for city

The final stage of a four-phase housing development has been approved by the Washington C. H. Zoning Board of Appeals.

Developer Jess Gilmore, Ohio 41-N, has been granted board approval for a 24-unit housing complex on Country Club Court. Having already been approved by the Washington C.H. Planning Commission, the project now awaits a final nod from City Council before construction can

Composed of eight separate buildings, the complex is to be located in a niche formed by the Armbrust-Willabar Village Addition and the Washington Country Club golf course. The final 24 housing units round out a initiated by development Gilmore in 1968. The entire fourpart complex will provide housing for 171 families when completed.

The first two stages of the project contain a total of 26 multifamily buildings which are already in use. They are located along Wagner Way, Wagner Court and Colonial Court.

The third part of the project is located on Country Club Court. Twenty apartment units which compose the third phase are nearing completion at the present time.

have one and two bedroom apartments, the final phase will offer only two-bedroom units. The cluster of eight buildings in the final stage will house three families each.

All four sections of the development are located off Leesburg Avenue in the area of the Fayette County Fairgrounds. They are served by city water and sewage facilities.

There is parking space provided for 45 cars in the final stage, and for 310 cars for the entire complex. This offers an average parking area of almost two cars per family.

A centrally located lot measuring 10,500 square feet has been set aside to serve as a playground for the complex.

OTHER MATTERS sidered by the zoning board during its meeting Wednesday included election of officers and a construction request by a Willard Street resident.

Edward W. Sexton, 363 Carolyn Rd., was named chairman of the board. He succeeds Dana Hyer who was claimed by death earlier this year. Wiley Witherspoon, 606 Charlotte Court was chosen to serve as vice chairman.

A request submitted by Roy D. Bailey, 1207 Willard St., for permission to construct a twofamily housing unit at the rear of his residence was denied by the board.

'Six-Day-War' bills shot down in court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - The Supreme Court ruled today that six partisan bills jammed through the legislature last year by the Democratic majority did not meet constitutional requirements. The court in a 6-1 decision said the bills were invalid. The court ordered Gov. James A. Rhodes to file the bills with the secretary of state, but said they would have no force.

Chief Justice C. William O'Neill, in the majority opinion, said the Democrats acted improperly in bypassing Republican Lt. Gov. John W.

Democrats had argued that Brown's signature on the legislation was merely a formality, and that they were justified in taking the legislation directly to Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan, then in his last day in office.

But O'Neill said the constitutional provision requiring Brown's signature was not discretionary. 'The provisions in...the Ohio Constitution are designed expressly to guarantee the integrity of the legislative process," O'Neill said. These provisions place a responsibility upon the presiding officer of each house to certify, by his signature, that the integrity of the legislative process has not been violated either inadvertently or deliberately. Justice Frank D. Celebrezze, the lone dissenter, said the majority decision "revitalizes the ancient ritual of formal presentment, signing and authentication to the demise of established legislative procedure in

The six bills were passed in January 1975 during the one-week period in which Democrats controlled both the legislature and the governor's office.

Under constitution, legislature is seated a week before the governor. Therefore, the Democraticcontrolled 111th General Assembly took office just before Rhodes took office.

The bills the Democrats passed during the week were unabashedly partisan. They redrew Congressional district lines to favor Democratic candidates and shifted jobs and power from Republican officeholders to Democrats.

After the bills were signed by Gilligan, however, Republican Secretary of State Ted W. Brown refused to file them, saying they did not carry the signature of Lt. Gov. Brown.

Since then, Rhodes has held the six bills in the governor's safe and Republican legislators have challenged their constitutionality in the courts,

The latest price report follows a spate of economic reports this week showing steady improvement in almost all sectors of the economy.

Industrial production in February increased for the 10th consecutive month, housing starts jumped 27 per cent to the highest level in nearly two years and businesses began expanding inventories by the biggest margin in over a year, the government reported. Ford administration officials consider the economic news since the first of the year a vindication of their policies and a boost for the President's election chances.

Unemployment also has dropped dramatically over the past four months, and wholesale prices have declined at an adjusted annual rate of 3.8 per cent since November.

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon predicted earlier this week, in the administration's most optimistic forecast to date, that joblessness may drop below 7 per cent this year and that inflation will decline to about 2 per cent within three years.

But the Congressional Budget Office warned that while the recovery is progressing, the improvement rate could slow sharply next year unless the economy is given more stimulation than the administration has proposed.

Poor mental care reported

WASHINGTON (AP) - A new government report says some mentally ill patients in private nursing homes are living with hunger, cockroaches, leaking roofs, exposed electrical wires and doors made of cardboard and

The report, released today by the Senate subcommitee on long-term care and programs, particularly scrutinized New York and Illinois. Senate investigators said private homes were found wanting in both states.

Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, chairman of the panel, said the conditions were fostered by government policy that provides a financial incentive to move patients from public institutions into private-care facilities.

"I have seen hungry people with their faces up against vending machines begging for a quarter," Moss said. "I saw three patients cooking eggs on a hotplate in their room while breakfast was being served in the dining room. I learned that they had bought the eggs with money they had received from begging.

Moss claimed mental patients "are a good investment" in New York as well as in Illinois.

He offered case histories of several private operations, including one in Illinois where the operator housed 180 mental patients who were transferred from public care facilities. The operator received $400,000 a year and managed to keep $185,000 as profit. Moss said the operator spent only 54 cents per patient per day for food.

"He (the operator) defended this profit, telling us it was below industry expectations," Moss said. Moss laid part of the blame on

Congress and the Social Security Act, including the Supplemental Security Income program. In 1935, when it approved Social Security, Moss said, Congress barred Social Security funds for residents of public institutions. But if boarded in a private home they could receive the

"In short, Congress created the scandal-ridden, for-profit nursing home industry," he said.

In this same way, Moss continued, Congress barred receipt of SSI funds by individuals in public institutions and cut SSI funds by a third for individuals under the care of and living with relatives.

The result, Moss said, was an incentive to leave public institutions for private-care facilities. The same law provided financial incentive for states to move patients into private homes, transferring the cost of caring for a patient to the federal level.

The report says the number of patients in state mental hospitals has dropped 44 per cent from 427,799 to 237,692 between 1969 and 1974.

'The saddest thing is that more often than not patients have been placed in slum housing and forgotten," Moss said. "In some cases, so many discharged patients have been placed in particular areas of our major cities that they have become instant psychiatric ghettos.

Patients in many of these private institutions are confronted with poor care and abuse, deliberate physical abuse and unsanitary conditions, he

Coroner files petitions

Dr. Ralph Gebhart, 46, of 564 Woodland Dr., has filed petitions seeking his fifth term as Fayette County coroner, subject to the Republican Party primary in June.

Since 1959, when Dr. Gebhart first established his medical practice in Washington C. H. with Dr. Robert A. Heiny, who serves as deputy coroner, he has been active in various civic organizations.

A past president of the Fayette County Board of Health, Dr. Gebhart is a member of the Ohio Association of Coroners, belongs to the American Association of Family Practitioners and the American Medical Association, and is connected with the Ohio State Medical Association.

Dr. Gebhart persued his undergraduate studies at Ohio State University, receiving his doctor of medicine degree there in 1955.

Dr. Gebhart and Heiny served their internship together in Hurley Hospital, Flint, Mich. Both entered the Air Force soon after, were commissioned captains, and discharged about the same

Reagan vows to continue race

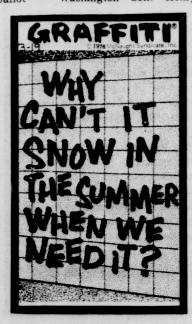

By ROBERT B. CULLEN Associated Press Writer

Ronald Republican challenger Reagan, campaigning for North Carolina's primary election, says one of his main problems is fending off questions from those who want to know how long he expects to remain in the presidential race. Reagan, loser to President Ford in the first five primary elections, waved off calls for his withdrawal and questions about the viability of his candidacy as he stumped North Carolina Thursday. Reagan said he expects a close race with Ford next Tuesday and he feels he has a chance to win.

Democrats Jimmy Carter and George Wallace toured the state, too, in search of support for the next of the primary elections.

Four other Democrats are on the Washington Sen. Henry

Jackson, Arizona Rep. Morris Udall, former Oklahoma Sen. Fred Harris and Texas Sen. Lloyd Bentsen. But Bentsen has quit the race and Jackson, Udall and Harris are concentrating their efforts elsewhere.

The Democratic field increased by one Thursday with entry of Sen. Frank Church of Idaho. "It's never too late, nor are the odds ever too great to try,' Church declared in Idaho City, Idaho

He became the second new candidate to enter the Democratic presidential race in a week. California Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. announced his candidacy last Friday.

North Carolina's Democratic primary is seen primarily as another duel between Carter and Wallace. Carter beat the Alabama governor in primaries in Florida and, last week, in Illinois; Wallace got more votes than Carter in the Massachusetts primary won by Jackson.

Jackson's interest in the North Carolina election fell off last week when New York's legislature changed the system for voting there April 6, making it easier for candidates with less money — like Udall — to round up support. The Washington senator quickly shifted his concentration to New York and the race for 274 national convention delegates, a race he predicts he will win.

North Carolina sends 61 delegates to the Democratic convention and 54 to the Republican meeting this summer, and Alex Brock, head of the state's election board, predicted this week that less than 38 per cent of the registered voters would help pick them.

"You've been with me, you've heard the crowd yell," Reagan said in reply to the many queries about his candidacy. 'They don't want me to quit. That's what everyone was saying as they took

"The only thing that would bring about my departure is absolute flat proof that the President has 1,130 delegates needed before the con-vention," the former California governor said at another point. Ford said Thursday night he would not consider primary victories in Illinois and North Carolina "knockout against Reagan. The

Record-keeping curbs near okay in Ohio Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - A bill establishing safeguards against indiscriminate release of personal data stored in massive government computer record-keeping systems has neared final approval in the Ohio legislature.

"Our personal lives, and those of any individual who has had business or dealings with the state for whatever the reason, are at the beck and call of anyone who has access to a data bank Rep. Edward J. Orlett, D-34 Dayton, told House members Thursday.

Virtually without debate, state representatives approved the bill 86-0 and returned it to the Senate where sponsor Stanley J. Aronoff, R-8 Cincinnati, is expected to ask for concurrence. In the upper chamber Thursday, senators approved an unprecedented antibusing amendment as part of a bill limiting public school class sizes in grades 1 to 3 to 27.

Antibusing plan faces Ohio solons

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - For the first time, an antibusing amendment has found its way into a proposal under consideration in Ohio's legislature.

It was inserted Thursday into a bill, later approved 21-8 by the Senate, which limits to 27 the number of pupils per classroom in grades one through three in the state's public schools.

Sen. Douglas Applegate, D-30 Steubenville, surprised sponsors with his amendment that prohibits busing as a means of achieving the class size restriction.

Over the objections of Sen. M. Morris Jackson, D-21 Cleveland, and other sponsors, Applegate won voice vote approval of his amendment after saying it would eliminate the possibility that school boards might bus barely school age youngsters long distances to meet the classroom mandate.

NOTICE TO EMPLOYERS OF WITHHOLDING REQUIREMENTS FOR MUNICIPAL INCOME TAX

Effective April 1, 1976

1. Ordinance No. 5-76 enacted as an emergency measure by the Council of the City of Washington, Ohio on March 1, 1976 levies a one half of one per cent (.005) city income tax effective April 1, 1976.

2. In accordance with the provisions of the abovementioned ordinance, employers within or doing business within the City of Washington, Ohio are required commencing April 1, 1976, to deduct at the time of payment of salaries, wages, commissions and other compensation the tax of one half of one per cent (.005) of the gross salaries, wages, commissions and other compensation due by the employer to an employee.

Employers shall on or before the last day of the month following the close of each calendar quarter make a return and pay to the Tax Administrator the amount of taxes so deducted. Said returns are to be made on form or forms prescribed by or acceptable to the Tax Administrator and shall be subject to the rules and regulations prescribed therefor by the Tax Administrator.

Employers shall be liable for the payment of the tax required to be withheld whether or not such taxes have in fact been withheld.

On or before the thirty-first (31st) day of January following any calendar year employers shall file with the Tax Administrator an information return for each employee (Wage and Tax Statement, Form W-2) from whom the City of Washington, Ohio income tax has been or should have been withheld, showing the name, address and social security number of each employee, the total amount of compensation paid during the year and the amount of City of Washington, Ohio income tax withheld from each employee.

Employers collecting the tax are deemed to hold same. until payment is made by such employer to the City of Washington, Ohio, as a trustee for the benefit of the City of Washington, Ohio and any such tax collected by employer from his employees shall, until the same is paid to the City of Washington, Ohio, be deemed a trust fund in the hands of such employer.

Postal cutbacks poor remedy

The United States Postal Service continues its deplorable course of reducing service to curb a growing deficit which already astronomical size. The latest step in this direction is the announcement that business mail delivery will soon be trimmed in New York and several other Eastern cities.

The plan is to cut deliveries to businesses to one a day in Washington, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Richmond, Syracuse, Utica, Rochester and Buffalo as of March 29. Effective May 17 deliveries will be reduced to twice daily in New York City, the only city with three deliveries a day at present in a vital business service is, however, open to question.

On simple bookkeeping grounds this makes exemplary good sense; it is expected that the cutbacks will save about three million dollars annually. The wisdom of a reduction

The problems of the Postal Service are monumental, the more so because rising costs ironically coincide with a decline in mail use which cuts revenues. But service reductions undertaken and contemplated are a poor remedy which may be self-defeating. The time has come for a thoroughgoing congressional review.

and that will further remind them of the price they are paying for some red clay tiles they will probably never see once they are installed. There had been significant opposition to the project from the onset. Dormant for the past several months, opponents are likely to be regenerated by these visible signs of the project. These opponents have a right to their opinions and a right to express those opinions. They have every right to try to convince those in authority to change their attitudes toward the project and call it to a halt

Until there is strong evidence to the contrary, it must be assumed that opponents and proponents alike are pursuing what they feel are the best interests of the city. Only when one is clearly acting in a manner which cannot possibly be in the best interests of the city should his motives be questioned.

I have no desire to praise the project or to ridicule it. The sewage problem here certainly warrants thorough investigation, and no irrevocable conclusion can be reached until all the evidence had been gathered and

When such a conclusion is reached and acted upon by Council, it will undoubtedly be termed a mistake by some, regardless of which course Council chooses to follow.

An obvious mistake can be made by area residents long before that time, however. Any action which distorts the evidence cannot possibly be in the best interests of the city. Nor can those who endanger the quality of the system, if it would be approved, be acting in the best interests of their fellow citizens.

There are frequent rumors that some area residents plan to refuse to allow the engineering field crews to enter their homes to make a detailed survey of the city's sewer needs. They supposedly will voice their opposition to the project by hindering the engineers'

Nothing could more obviously demonstrate a total disregard for the city and its residents. The engineers cannot be stopped from making their survey, they can only be forced to be inaccurate.

Should the engineers be forced to stimate the location of sewer con nections, or the number of homes feeding a particular sewer line, errors could result.

If Council eventually approves construction of the system, as appears likely, the construction plans could be based on errors in the engineers' diagrams. The wrong size tile might be installed in a neighborhood, or a homeowner may be forced to tie into a sewer line further from his house than was necessary. Such imperfections would reduce the effectiveness of the system or require expensive correc-

Even those who feel the project is too rich for their pocketbook would have to admit that it would be better to pay "too high" a price for an excellent sewage system than to pay the same price for an imperfect one.

Whether firmly backing or staunchly opposing the sewer project, all city residents are urged to cooperate with the engineering firm so that the information on which we act can be as accurate as possible.

To risk paying $23.6 million for a system we ourselves have caused to be substandard would be the greatest mistake of all.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - Rock samples are being sent by the state to Germany to determine if an energy research firm can find a way to extract gas from shale rock formations.

The Federal Energy Administration estimates there are 500 to 900 trillion cubic feet of gas deposited in the Upper Devonian shale regions. However, no successful technique has been developed to extract the gas commercially

'We are looking for scientific help in finding a way to make the huge reserve of shale gas available to Ohio consumers," said James A. Duerk, director of the Department of Economic and Community Development.

Duerk was a member of trade mission to Europe who met with scientists at Steinkohlenbergbauverien of Essen to explain the problems involved in extracting gas from shale rock formations in Ohio and other

IRA plans show returns

NEW YORK (AP)-Wage-earners who hold Individual Retirement Accounts earn substantial financial benefits in being permitted to set aside up to $1,500 a year on which taxes can be deferred.

IRAs became available last year as a means of permitting workers not covered by qualified private or government retirement plans — excluding Social Security and Railroad Retirement - to build their own retirement accounts.

So far, only a very small percentage of those eligible have signed up, despite the fact that some workers might be able to accumulate in an IRA more than double the sum that could be saved in a regular, taxed account.

-For example, a single person earning $12,000 a year — the 25 per cent federal tax bracket - could accumulate $43,483 in 20 years by saving $1,500 a year at 7.5 per cent interest. But in an IRA, it would build to $73,249.

The difference is accounted for solely by the fact that interest earned in a regular savings account is taxed each year, whereas taxes on IRA accounts are delayed until retirement age, when brackets are lower, and then only as money is withdrawn.

If the same procedure of saving $1,500 a year - the maximum amount permitted under IRA regulations were followed for 25 years, the sum would be $116,605, compared with $64, 692 in a regular account.

And if the IRA were continued for 30 years, the balance would grow to $180,015, almost double the $92,974 that would accumulate in the taxed account.

The potential for even greater returns, but with an accompanying increase in the risk involved, might be available to those who choose an IRA plan in which the money is invested in securities. -What size retirement payments can be provided under such a plan? The amount will vary, depending upon contributions, the interest on the account and the duration of the IRA. In any case, the amount can be substantial, as indicated by these figures again, based on $1,500 a year at 7.5 per cent.

After 20 years with an IRA, the retirement balance would be $73,249, an amount sufficient to provide 10 years of payments at $870.35 a month, or 15 years of payments at $689.97 a month.

After 23½ years with an IRA, the balance would be about $100,000. This would permit payments for 10 years of $1,888 a month, or 15 years of $928 a

After 34 years, a $250,000 IRA would be built - again, assuming the daily compounding of 7.5 per cent interest which, however, is not guaranteed permitting monthly payments for 10 years of $2,970, or 15 years of $2,320.

Sixty-six years of Camp Fire

Since the Camp Fire Girls were founded in 1910, more than two million girls have been members. Most of those were from the United States, many were members in Great Britain and the rest were members in various other countries around the world.

Camp Fire was started 66 years ago by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Gulick. They had a camp in Maine where their three daughters and one son not only enjoyed outdoor life, but shared in the management of the camp.

The Gulicks believed that everyday life should and could be full of joy and zest with knowledge of the outdoors.

Girls can find symbolism and significance in every aspect of Camp Fire program. It calls on their imagination to interpret the symbolism and to appreciate its beauty.

The name of Camp Fire was given to the club for two reasons; because the fire on the hearth has symbolized the heart of the home since the earliest of times; and because the campfire suggests the outdoors, its beauty, and its health giving qualities of fresh air and

There is no deep dark mystery about becoming a Camp Fire Girl. A girl may join a group that has already been organized or she may form one of her own by getting together five friends and a leader.

Camp Fire was planned especially for a girl's leisure time or the time not claimed by sleeping, eating, and school. Basicly it is a plan for a girl's spare time filling it with exciting, interesting and worthwhile things to do.

The slogan for the organization is "Give Service", and their colors have traditionally been red, white and blue

The Camp Fire Law is an expression of responsibility as well as an indication of goals. It states that a girl who participates should worship God, seek beauty, give service, pursue knowledge hold onto health, glorify work and be happy.

The program is designed for girls of all ages. Girls ages six through eight may join Bluebirds, at nine to 11 they can be Adventurers; ages 12 and 13 participate in Discovery groups, and 14 to 17 year olds can join Horizon clubs. Those who wish to continue their involvement in Camp Fire may do so as assistant group

Each year the girls take part in several outings. One of the most entertaining trips last year was to the zoo and this year many of the groups plan to travel to Cincinnati to see the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey Circus.

One of the highlights of the Camp Fire Girls' yearly activities is the Grand Council Fire. At the council, the girls are recognized for their achievements and the older Bluebirds "fly up" the ranks to become full-fledged Camp Fire Girls. The council meets every Warm summer weather affords the girls an opportunity to enjoy the outdoors, and two weeks are usually spent at Camp Murdock. At the camp the girls study nature, do crafts, learn outdoor cooking, fish and take trail hikes.

Some of the craft items made by the local Camp Fire Girl groups will be on display at Craig's through Saturday.

However, entertainment is only a part of the Camp Fire Girl program. The girls also learn responsibility to each other and to their community. Their projects include selling balloons for the Heart Fund, Daffodil sales for the cancer Fund, collecting for the Community Chest. They also display a large exhibit at the Fayette County Fair each summer.

It is when these work projects become enjoyable and fulfilling that the value of Camp Fire Girls is most apparent. Enjoying the fun is easy, but finding pleasure in helping others is an accomplishment of much greater significance.

The 12 members of the Wadkita teresting activities for this the hanneah Adventure group meet on bicentennial year. Girls have worked on bicentennial projects with "We the People," the theme for the year. The project began last March by presenting a student, teacher, and parent a "Bill of Rights and Responsibilities" at the March PTO meeting held at Rose

Much time was spent in the discussion of these rights and responsibilities. The girls decided that to be assured of one's rights, at school, home or anywhere, one must be a responsible citizen. One afternoon in May, the group traveled to Camp Murdock, near South Salem, where the girls built a fire and cooked their own supper. Crafts for the fair, consisting of wood plaques with the Camp Fire Law on them, were made. Girls, who had earned beads, were given their beads at this time. The group loves the outdoors and Camp Murdock is their favorite place.

In the spring, the girls helped raise funds for the American Cancer Society by selling daffodils, Girls also marched in the Memorial Day Parade and made a tour of Pennington Bakery.

June was the month for Day Camp. Nine members attended and worked on their first step in the "Progression in Outdoor Action." All nine girls earned the "Fire Tender" patch. They learned things about hiking, how to measure distances by paces, knot tying, use and care of a jackknife, outdoor cooking, fire building and fire safety.

July and August were vacation months, but with the beginning of school in September, the group once again started holding regular meetings. Plans were made to attend the Fall Pow-Wow at Camp Murdock on the weekend of Oct. 4. The new skills learned at Camp Murdock were put to

The girls spent the evening around a campfire singing songs, popping corn and talking. A worship service was held on Sunday morning.

October was a busy month with the United Way drive and the Grand Council Fire was at Washington Middle School auditorium. Eleven members became "Wood Gatherers" and two became "Trail Seekers," the first step on the Camp Fire trail. Girls were presented awards earned during the previous year.

The first weekend in November the girls helped distribute literature for the Fayette Progressive School levy. November is also the month for the annual Camp Fire candy sale, the main fund-raising event. In addition, this group and the I Yo Tan group from Belle-Aire School, sponsored a skating

Rose Avenue School PTO Carnival was held this month, and the Girls in the Waditka Ahneah Adventure group handled all the publicity and made wall decorations in the bicentennial theme. On the night of the Carnival, the group cleaned the tables the entire evening.

The only event in December was the Christmas party, when the girls went to the Blue Drummer Steak House for dinner, then to the home of Mrs. Earl McDaniel for the gift exchange.

February, Heart Month, was a busy one, and all sold heart balloons. Plans for the Birthday Week were also made and the girls kept busy during the remainder of the time, working on projects for the Fayette County Fair.

In addition, trips are being planned to historical sites, and the group hopes to attend a trial or City Council meeting. It is important to remember that history is not a bygone issue, but rather

Local Camp Fire history

The first group of Camp Fire Girls in Washington C. H. was organized by Miss Virginia & Featheringill and Mrs. Gwen & Mossbarger Ware in 1990 Mossbarger Ware in 1939 under the jurisdiction of the Columbus Council. The original group was sponsored by the Mothers Circle of Washington C. H. and met at the official headquarters for Camp Fire, in a white frame building which is now the office building of Dr. Jack Persinger, E. Market St.

Miss Featheringill was a history and geography teacher for the fifth, sixth and seventh grades at Rose Avenue School, and was the niece of Mrs. I. L. Pumphrey. The first meeting took place in the Pumphrey residence on Market St.

On July 2, 1946, the first Washington C. H. Camp Fire Council was organized in the little theatre of Washington High School, with Mrs. James Barger in charge of the meeting. Robert Eppley, first council president, read the list of the charter members. In 1955, the council became a participant in the Community Chest, receiving $350. In 1958, the name of the council was changed from Washington C. H. Council to the Paint Valley Council of Camp Fire Girls in order to include all Fayette County in its jurisdiction. At the present time, there are 24 Blue Bird and Camp Fire groups.

and politics, are a part of history.
Collectively the girls are involved in wealth of school activities. They include Marching Band, Pep Band, the French Club, Y-Teens, AFS, GAA, participation on the varsity volleyball and basketball teams.

With this wealth of school activity, it is sometimes difficult to arrange Camp Fire meetings which do not conflict with someone's school schedule However, despite the obstacles, the girls have been quite active.

During the past few weeks they have created Indian necklaces and pendants.

Some of the projects completed during the past year include par-ticipation in the Council Fire, the Fayette County Fair, and the Camp Fire candy sale. At Christmas, the group made wreaths of patch-work gingham.

Although the girls will be seniors next year, they hope to remain active at least until after the Council Fire. Five of the members will be recognized during this ceremonial observance. Kathy Ginn, Sandy Harris and Marilyn Seifried will have attained 10 years membership. Becky Wheat will have been a member for seven years, and Sally Robinson, five years.

Their leaders are also due some sort of recognition. Mrs. Walter Seifried has been a leader for the group throughout their 10 years in Camp Fire, and Mrs. Gerald Wheat has been with the group for seven years.

Both the leaders and members of Wi Ca Ka Ko Ki exemplify the translation of the name which is "faithful women."

Luta Discovery group hangs on

Luta Discovery Club means "To hang on and do". Members of the Luta Discovery Club, attend the Washington Middle School, and are in the seventh and eighth grades. Several of the members of this group have completed their fifth year in the Paint Valley Council of Camp Fire Girls.

The groups has participated in the council activities and the camping program. Two of the girls helped staff the nursery during the summer Day Camp at Camp Murdock, where they attended as campers to earn the 'Gypsy'' rank. This is the highest rank in progressive outdoor living.

The girls have completed their ceremonial gowns and beaded headbands. They are now ready to plan and design the leather collars they wear on the gowns.

Girls in this level work for individual 'Torch Bearer'" patches. There are 19 different categories from which the girls may choose. They will receive the patches they earn at the Grand Council Fire which is held each October

The To-Lo-Li-Ma-Ki Adventure girls are members of the fifth and sixth grades of Rose Avenue Elementary School and the Washington Middle

The group is comprised of Rhonda Penn, Julie Lloyd, Shelia Ferguson, Diane Bellar, Patty Bellar, Renee Hamilton, and Kellie Zinn.

Since the girls leave school at different times, meetings are held at the Eastside Elementary School cafeteria evey Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. The meeting usually lasts two hours.

The group started out in February of 1975 by helpings with the Heart Fund balloon sale. Some of the girls not only blew up the balloons, but also helped to sell them on the streets. This activity helped earn the girls to Ho To Se (Hours to Serve) award.

In July, six of the girls helped with Headstart children on a tour of Fayette county Fair

In October, four of the girls helped with the Community Chest Drive. Later in the month, six of the girls passed out literature for the Fayette Progressive School tax levy. Two girls collected for cystic fybrosis.

In February of this year, six members made St. Patrick's Day decorations for the V.A. hospital in Chillicothe.

Campfire Council was also a part of the agenda for the girls.

During March of last year, the attended Grace United Methodist Church for Campfire Birthday Sunday. In the same month, the girls also attended the annual potlatch supper whose theme was "We the People." The girls made center pieces,

Symboligrams used to name girls' groups

The Odakoya Adventure Group has recently been working on their symboligram to signify their group name which means "friendship together". The symbol that the fifth grade girls have selected to represent the meaning of their name consists of a white cross which stands for the purity and truthfulness of real friendship, and reaching hands, an Indian symbol, done in red feld for warmth, which means togetherness. The symbol was put on the backs of their ceremonial jackets. In the future they will be making head bands for their ceremonial costumes.

The group, which was recently reorganized and is now under the direction of a new leader, Mrs. Ronald L. Dowler, has taken part in the Community Chest Drive and also the Heart Fund Drive. By participating in these events the girls are earning hours towards their Ho-To-See Award.

During the Christmas season the girls worked on ceramic cups and learned how to fire and decorate them. In May the group will be going on the Camp Fire annual trip and then they will attend camp in June in order to

In June, five of the girls attended Camp Murdock for the annual five-day Day Camp, with Thursday night being the overnight stay. A hayride and snipe hunt were part of the the night's activities. Also during the night, a program was featured in which parents were invited to receive camp patches and certificates.

September saw plans implemented in which the group attended the fall Pow-Wow, also held at Camp Murdock. During the week-end the girls cooked their meals over an open fire. The Saturday noon meal consisted of sloppy joe sandwiches, potato chips and pop. Saturday evening, New York strip steaks were served, with french fries, french bread, tossed salad, and pop. At midnight, pizza was served with pop.

On Sunday morning of the week-end, bacon, scrambled eggs, toast, and hot chocolate were served, followed by church services. Afterwards, everyone

cleaned up the camp site and returned home around 1 p.m

In October, the girls attended the annual Paint Valley Grand Council Fire at the Middle School in which the girls received awards for their sevice

during the previous year.

A Christmas party held at the Pizza Hut restaurant was the highpoint of December for the girls. Throughout the year, the girls participated in two council-sponsored fund raising projects. All purpose cleaner, window cleaner, and candy were sold. Presently, the group is working on headbands and making plans for this year's potlatch supper with the theme "It's a New Day.

'Learning about bees' Posy Garden Club topic

The Posy Garden Club met in the home of Mrs. Jess Schlichter for an conservation meeting, "Learning About Bees." Mr. J. W. Sears of Honey Acres in northern Fayette County brought an observation hive filed with busy bees. He explained that bees were probably on the earth before man. The pioneers treasured a "Bee tree" (hives were not used until 1850), bees were followed as they made a "bee line" for their tree. The trees were usually felled and the honey stored in stone jars for use as sweetening and medicine; many uses were also found for the wax.

He explained that about 60,000 bees lived in the hive, with these divided into one-third as field bees and two-thirds as "house bees" and one queen to a hive. The young queen takes a "virgin where she mates with drones and will be fertile for life. She lays nearly 2,000 eggs a day. Young bees hatch the middle of March, usually, and Mr. Sears pointed out some just emerging from the cells in the observation hive.

Poison sprays can destroy a hive. Bees are of great value to nearly every seed producing plant or tree. Farmers can safely spray in early morning before bees start working. Bees are of great value to fruit growers. Honey is marketed as comb or extracted - with most of it now extracted. The kind of flowers from which the bees collect the nectar affects the flavor of the honey.

Mrs. Schlichter had an exhibit of cedar branches from which small bumble bee size beeds had crawled. Mr. Sears identified them as "carpenter bees.

Mrs. Albert Bihl, secretary, read a letter from Mrs. Louis Baer concerning the Historical Style Show and Colonial Tea on April 4 at the Mahan Building. All proceeds will go towards the creative living project for the han-

Mrs. Schlichter attended the recent Presidents' Council meeting at which time plans were completed for the "Beautification of Mailbox and Flower Box" contest.

The contest is being conducted by the Ohio Association of Garden Clubs in the county, and a trip to Shakertown, Ky., in September. Mrs. Albert Bihl and Mrs. Frank Barrett, committee for the Ecology Poster Contest, are making plans for the contest with the fifth grade of Madison Mills School in April. The pupils in this grade are also making a Bicentennial quilt and Mrs. Lyle Hanawalt has been teaching them embroidery stitches.

The craft for the Fayette Progressive School class this week will be Hex symbols, explained by Mrs. Schlichter with other members telling 'what we learned about bees' this week.

Mrs. Arthur Schlichter read a paper on "Natures Insecticides," telling of beneficial and harmful insects. The friendly insects help to keep the balance of nature. Chemicals are needed with careful use and some newer controls are synthetic hormones, sterilants, stimulants and systemics. Besides bees, some useful insects are lady-beetle, many spiders, dragon fly, lace wing and robber flies. Birds are also one of natures ways of controlling insects.

Plans were completed for the club's annual Open Meeting April 21 in the annex of the Madison Mills United Methodist Church, Mr. Don Mortenson of Columbus will demonstrate "How to dwarf shrub or tree to create an ornamental bonsai." There will be no charge and anyone wanting to learn this interesting hobby may attend by calling Mrs. J. Schlichter or any member of the Posey Garden Club.

Mrs. Schlichter served Key Lime pie for St. Patrick's Day, made with honey as the sweetener. Members attending were Mrs. Bihl, Mrs. Barrett, Mrs. Arthur Schlichter, Mrs. Lester Haines, Mrs. Hanawalt, Mrs. Bess Seaman, Mrs. Fern Miller, Mrs. Ester Woods and guests Mr. and Mrs. Sears.

Garden clubs Presidents' Council to conduct mail box contest

County Garden Club Presidents' Council met Tuesday at Anderson's Restaurant for a noon luncheon and meeting. Following the noon meal, the meeting was opened by the County Contact Chairman Mrs. Willard Bitzer. The minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report were both given by Mrs. James Braun.

The first topic of discussion was the County Fair Flower Show to be held from Thursday, July 29 to Saturday, July 31 at the Fayette County Fair. Rules and schedule were read for final approval by the group before being printed in the Fair Book. Mrs. Robert Wilson is the Garden Club member in charge. The Twin Oaks Garden Club will provide an educational exhibit and a commercial exhibit will be in charge of Mrs. Barbara Anders of Anders Greenhouse.

The Bicentennial mail box contest was discussed and it was decided to include Flower Boxes in the city and Mail Boxes in the county in the competition. Closing date for entry will be May 30 and judging will be June 30, with winners being announced and awards presented the week of July 4. Mrs. Edwin Thompson will act as chairman of this contest and will have two representatives from each Garden Club assisting her as contest judges. Judge Schwart CCL speaker

Judge Omar Schwart was guest speaker when the Delta Child Conservation League met in the home of Mrs. Wilbur Rapp. Judge Schwart spoke on the "Moral Development of the Child." He stressed discipline, supervision and guidance, and said that one must 'be a parent, not a pal.'

"What Makes a Family" and "Time for Beauty" were read by Mrs. Wilbur Fleming for devotions.

Mrs. Wilbur Braun reported on the philanthropic projects of the league, and that the members would contribute to the American Field Service exchange programs at both Miami Trace and Washington Senior High Schools, 4-H, CCL scholarship fund, and the United Church Women.

The Spring CCL banquet was announced for May 5, to be held at the Washington Country Club. Reservations must be made by May 1. Members signed up for the Spring

CCL Conference to be held at Xenia Mrs. Mossbarger, president of the league, presented a slate of candidates for officers: President-Mrs. Robert Browning; vice president-Mrs. Dwight Duff; recording secretary- Mrs. David Gerber; corresponding secretary- Mrs. David Krupla; and treasurer-Mrs. Wilbur Fleming.

Peace Corps member to talk

"The Philippines" an illustrated lecture will be presented on Sunday, March 28 at 2:30 p.m. in the Meeting Hall of Kingwood Center, Mansfield, Ohio. The program will be presented by Mr. Bill Manz, a member of the Peace Corps. This is the third talk in this vear's Family Lecture Series sponsored by Kingwood. It is open to the public free of charge.

Mr. Manz, a Richland County native spent two years in the back country of the Philippines serving as an "extension agent." His lesture will concentrate on his experiences with the rural natives of the back provinces of the Philippines; their life-styles, farming methods, traditions, and beliefs.

Bill Manz, currently working towards a master's degree in agricultural economics at Ohio State University, is also serving as a student counselor for the Peace Corps. In this capacity, he advises students regarding Peace Corps work. Manz's wife, Ana, is a native of the Philippines.

The Kingwood greenhouse and indoor light gardening display will be open from 8:00 a.m. to sunset. The greenhouse is especially beautiful at this time of the year with forced spring bulbs and other flowering plants. There may be a large number of spring bulbs in bloom on the Kingwood grounds if moderate weather continues. They are about three weeks ahead of normal this vear because of the unseasonably warm weather Mansfield has had.

Kingwood Center is located in the western part of Mansfield and is easily accessible from U.S. 30 at Trimble Road exit or from Ohio Route 13.

FATHER CONNELLY

Father Connelly guest speaker at F-S banquet

"Fathers, you must take some time from your busy day and do things with your children," was the advice given by the Rev. Father Richard J. Connelly, who addressed fathers and sons from New Holland, Atlanta and Hebron Methodist churches recently. He also emphasized the value of spending time together "now" as later, for children will look back and cherish these

Father Connelly also pointed out that families who attend church together and take an interest in sports, though not necessarily participating, are less likely to become involved in some sort of trouble. He encouraged the boys to develop their interests and talents in an area that appeals to them, then give it their all, because what one gets out of life is in direct proportion to the effort that one puts into it, he said.

An evening meal served by members of the Young Adult Class of the New Holland United Methodist Church, was served to 76 persons. Red, white and blue table decorations carried out the Bicentennial theme. Another highlight of the evening was a puppet show featuring the Peanuts Gang, given by Mrs. Karen Amey of New Holland.

Hickory Lane Fellowship

President Mrs. Robert Johnson conducted the Hickory Lane Ladies Fellowship meeting held at the church this week. 'Thirst' was the word used in Scripture in response to roll call. 'Sketches" was the topic of devotions presented by Mrs. Bertha Riley. Mrs. Fred Tracy, Mrs. Keith Wooley and Mrs. Merlin Kaser were appointed to a committee to prepare Fellowship booklets. "Virtues" is the theme chosen for devotions for the year. Hostesses for the year were decided,

and the Easter breakfast was discussed. Serving on this committee are Mrs. Rusty Bainter, Mrs. Paul Keller and Miss Susan Bainter. Cookbooks will be made for the annual Mother-Daughter banquet, and recipes for these must be given to Mrs. Kaser will be Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Bainter, Mrs. Ethel Long, Miss Bainter and Mrs. Gary Kinzer.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. George Pierce and Mrs. Keller to Mrs. Riley, Mrs. Bainter, Mrs. Gary Kinzer, Mrs. Frank Kinzer, Mrs. Rosa Brannon, Mrs. George DeWeese, Mrs. Willard Bainter, Miss Bainter, Mrs. Kaser and Tina, Mrs. Fred Tracy, Mrs. Tom VanDyne, Mrs. William Briggs, Mrs. Keith Wooley, Mrs. Long, Mrs. Hubert Lucas and Mrs. Johnson.

Pork producers name officers, committees

Martin Smith, Miami Trace Road, was elected President of the Fayette County Pork Producers at the board of director's meeting Tuesday evening at the Extension Office. Smith succeeds Bob Taylor, formerly of Prairie Road.

Other officers elected were vice president David Owens of Jeffersonville, secretary Roger Donohoe. Rt. 1, Mt. Sterling; and treasurer Fred Ehlerding, Miami Trace Road.

In other business the directors reviewed the annual meeting and the winter carcass evaluation. It was reported that the winter carcass evaluation under the direction of Jerry Hoppes had the largest participation of recent years.

Directors also reviewed plans for the up coming membership drive for the Ohio and National Pork Producers

Council. Ted Waddle, Prairie Road, was appointed chairman of the membership committee. The first phase of the membership drive will be by mail to re-sign current members of the association.

Following the regular business meeting the Executive Committee appointed committee chairmen for 1976. They are Ron Warner, pork promotion; Dr. R.D. Little and Dr. Robert Schwartz, health; Charlie Andrews, youth promotion; Jerry Hoppes, banquet; Richard Wood, winter carcass show; Gene Gustin and Alan Wilt, county market hog show and sale; Joe Jordan, Rick Shephard and Lee Rowe, pork concession stand; and Dave Owens, Buckeye barrow show

Dellums heads black ticket

Black Political Assembly has selected U.S. Rep Ron Dellums, D-Calif., to head its independent party bid to capture the presidency in November.

The assembly's executive committee announced Thursday that the 40 yearold Dellums, from California's 8th Congressional District, "is the popular and overwhelming choice of our state delegations.'

The nomination was expected to be approved Saturday by the more than

No election board change

A re-organizational meeting held by the Fayette County Board of Elections resulted in no change of the prior office operation.

Richard P. Kimmet was chosen to continue serving as chairman of the board. Elected to serve a two-year term ending in March, 1978, Kimmet assumed the top post in September when death claimed Milbourne Barney

The new chairman was selected by a vote of the four board members. In addition to Kimmet, they are Mrs. Charlene Cunningham, Mrs. Louise Rodgers and Elmer Reed

During the meeting, it was announced that Secretary of State Ted W. Brown had named Mrs. Mary Jean Jennings to continue in her position as office director. Mrs. Peg Langen was selected to serve as deputy director. Both women have held their respective positions since March, 1972.

Squirrels became so numerous in Franklin County and Columbus, Ohio in 1822 that a public hunt was conducted, and nearly 20,000 were killed. Naturalists believed it was part of an migration from south to north in a search for a better food supply

Abram and Lot Go to Egypt

So Abram departed, as the LORD had spoken unto him; and Lot went with him. -Genesis 12: 4

Among the legion of Noah's descendants was one Terah, direct in line from the patriarch's son Shem. Terah had a son, Abram, who had found special favor with the Lord. And so it was that, upon the death of Terah, God commanded Abram to leave Haran, his birthplace, and travel with his family to a land which He would show them. That land, as was later shown to Abram in a dream, was Canaan-a region not only promised by God to all of Abram's descendants, but as the site of a most special period in Jewish history. Abram did as told, leaving Haran with his wife Sarai, his nephew Lot, and a score of other relatives. For many miles they journeyed but, as they neared the land of Canaan, they learned of famine there and so turned to Egypt instead.

Religious book reaches pinnacle

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer NEW YORK (AP) Sometimes religious books far outsell the widely touted, so-called "best sellers," but never show up on the lists because of practices in the trade. But a current religious number has hit such a peak that it has broken into nearly all the front-runner listings. It's "Angels: God's Secret Agents," by evangelist Billy Graham, with 1,210,000 copies distributed since it came out last fall. "It's the fastest selling book we've ever had, and to the best of our knowledge, that anybody's ever had," says Alex Liepa, an editor of Doubleday company. Nevertheless, it's one of the few religious books to push into the major 'best-selling" lists, even though such books often beat those listed in national sales and popularity among American readers, and though sales of religious books lately have climbed faster than other categories.

Jennifer Byron, of Nashville, Tenn., a Baptist Book Stores communications specialist who has made an extensive study of the situation, says:

'The fact that books designed for a specific market may not get on a bestseller list even though they sell as many copies as those that do gives the public a wrong picture of what books are really selling. One reason mentioned for the disparity is that compilers of the lists

generally don't check with religious books stores, of which there are more than 3,500 in the country. Other factors

also apparently figure in the problem, including a tendency not to consider religious books in the general nonfiction category. "To say the best-seller lists are inaccurate is to put it mildly," says Liepa, citing various religious books that don't make the lists while selling far more than secular numbers which Peter Kladder of Zondervan Corp., a big religious publishing house in Grand Rapids, Mich., which recently opened new multimillion-dollar manufacturing and warehousing facilities there, says:

"I'm convinced that if there was a really good system of determining sales, a third of the books on the bestseller lists would be 'religious'

For example, more than 30 religious books in the last five years have had sales exceeding one million, outdoing most "best sellers", but without making the "best-seller" lists. The superseller of them all, a paraphrase of Scripture called "The Living Bible" by Kenneth Taylor, has sold more than 18 million in that period, 3 million of them in a Doubleday edition only in general trade stores, but made few top-selling

Over-all, religious book sales have gone up 16.6 per cent since 1967, compared to an over-all book publishing gain of less than 10 per cent, the Association of American Publishers

You may have missed some of the 18 specials offered during this campaign, but don't miss "I Regret Nothing," a lovely 78-minute film biography of French singer Edith Piaf, who died in (The Public Broadcasting Service says it'll transmit the program to PBS stations at 8:30 p.m. EST on Saturday. But check your local listings, as the time of broadcast may differ in some areas.) Now, I must admit I'm not too keen on popular French singers. To me, most sound as if they choked on a snail while murmuring the name of Georges Pompidou over and over again. But "I Regret Nothing," made by a chap named Michael Houldey and first aired by the BBC in 1970, does a remarkable job of showing the qualities that made Miss Piaf stand out among singers of any nationality. Houldey does this with a series of Piaf recordings, photograph and film clips of her at various stages of her life and career, and interviews of her friends, colleagues and lovers. In less skilled hands, this could have been an awfully mawkish, boring

salaam to a lady whose full, emotionally turbulent life occasionally is likened to that of the late Judy

Tommy Rettig given sentence

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP) -Former child actor Tommy Rettig has been sentenced for marijuana possession, his second drug-related conviction this year.

Rettig, 33, who starred in television's "Lassie" series, pleaded guilty last month in this central California community for possession of threequarters of a pound of marijuana.

Judge Richard Kirkpatrick sentenced him Wednesday to three years' probation and six months in the county jail. The judge suspended the sentence, providing Rettig serves a sentence handed down last month on a Los Angeles federal court conviction for smuggling a small quantity of cocaine from Peru. That conviction is being appealed.

INDUSTRIAL AND COMMERCIAL LANDS THE HAMM FARMS TUESDAY, MARCH 23, 1976

Parcel I (Tract I, Tract II, Tract III) 10:00 A.M. Parcel II 1:00 P.M.

PARCELI - 155.69 ACRE FARM

LOCATED: Just east of Washington C. H., Ohio, at the edge of the Industrial Park and being just west of the State Route 753 and Old Chillicothe Road intersection, along the B & O Railroad, fronting on Robinson Road with the address of 1534. All tracts are in Union Township, Fayette County, Ohio, and zoned for industry and commercial business. All survey measures are from the highway right-of-way and not from the center line of this highway. To be sold in TRACT I: 4.0 acres with main set of buildings. 567" frontage on Robinson Road and 307' in depth.

IMPROVEMENTS: A nearly century-old two-story brick residence with basement. Downstairs has five rooms and full bath. Upstairs has three bedrooms and storage rooms. Large basement with fuel oil furnace. Drilled well and approved septic system. Three-room brick building (in back) consists of milk house, summer kitchen, and meat room. Other farm buildings are 30' x 40' barn, livestock sheds, implement sheds, granary, garage, etc. You may find this type home or property interesting enough for your next move.

TRACT II: 137.16 acres of remaining land on the south side of Robinson Road. Approximately 4 mile road frontage. Nearly all crop land (now in pasture) except the west side is in bluegrass, and has stream flowing through this area. No buildings. This should really excite the investment buyers. Be sure to attend

TRACT III: 14.53 acres of land. Frontage is .7 mile on the north side of Robinson Road, and also being on the south side of the B & O Railroad. Buildings include small tenant house. This very handy small acreage could accept so many assignments for small business ventures.

This entire 155.69 acre farm has been appraised $233,535.00. Taxes for 1975 are $638.30 per year.

PARCEL II - 198.50 ACRE FARM

LOCATED: Approximately 1000 ft. east of the Washington C. H. corporation line, fronting on U.S. 22. Just east of the U.S. 22 and State Route 753 intersection, being in Union Township, Fayette County, Ohio. Zoned for industrial and commercial business. Much frontage on Pennsylvania Railroad.

IMPROVEMENTS: Residence consists of five rooms and full bath downstairs, plus two rooms upstairs. Barn, machinery sheds, livestock sheds, and garage, all of which are on one corner of this farm. This rather level land farm is about all crop producing and has a little less than one mile road frontage on U.S. 22 and Bogus Road, Drilled wells. Fences are average. Here you can make your estate "Real Estate". Think and study this farm.

This 198.50 acre farm has been appraised $248,125.00, and will sell as a unit for one money. Taxes for 1975 are $709.64 per year.

Students attend conference

The weekend of March 5-6, Miss Susie Bailey, Miss Carol Clements, teachers at Washington Senior High School as well as students Diana Stackhouse and Crista Creamer were privileged to attend the State Leadership Conference of Future Business Leaders of

The convention was held in Cleveland for the Future Business Leaders of America clubs around the state. It consisted of students competing in skilled subjects such as shorthand, typing and business math. None of the students in the Washington C.H. chapter at FBLA were eligible to compete, because this is the first year for their club.

The convention consisted of a general session in which voting for state of-ficers took place. With Diana Stackhouse working as Crista Creamer's campaign manager, Crista, was elected state reporter.

As state reporter, Crista will gather information from all FBLA clubs in the state to put into a newsletter to be sent to all members.

Diana also attended a fashion show given by Glamour Magazine at one of the Cleveland stores.

When the election of the President was thrown into the House of Representatives in 1825 for a choice between John Quincy Adams and Andrew Jackson, Ohio's electoral votes went to Adams who became the sixth President of the United States. Originally in the election of 1824 Ohio's vote had gone to Henry Clay.

On Saturday night, March 6th a formal banquet was held for induction of officers. The four returned to Washington C.H. on Sunday, March

"We all enjoyed it and hope more people will join FBLA," Miss Bailey said. She outlined the history of FBLA, saying "it has been giving students an opportunity for 25 years to compete with others from all over the U.S. in events ranging from typing to overall problem solving and business awareness."

She added that all this is in hope of creating in students a sense of responsibility and preparing them for careers in business.

Miss Bailey also noted that "collegebound students join FBLA and there is an extension for them when they attend

As a matter of local interest, Miss Bailey indicated that chapters all over the country work closely with businesses in local communities, working toward developing business leaders for the future.'

'Annie Get Your Gun' rehearsal

Cast begins shooting for April 23 curtain

This year Washington Senior High School is preparing the musical comedy "Annie Get Your Gun. It will be presented April 23 and 24.

The two main characters in the play are Annie Oakley and Frank Butler. Miss Toni Conley will play the role of Annie, and the leading male role of Butler will be portrayed by Mike McDonald.

Frank Butler seems to be a most interesting character. He is the star of a wild west show, and is what Mike calls a "rhinestone cowboy." Butler thinks a lot of himself, and he hates to be beaten especially by women. Naturally, Annie Oakley proves to be a challenge for him. As the play progresses, though, he finds that Annie means more to him than just a competitor in a gun show at our house.

Just like Frank Butler, Mike hates to be beaten. He has a stubborn streak in him that won't let him give up. Thus, he is able to play the past of Butler, identifying with the character. After studying and rehearsing the part for so many hours, Mike often finds it difficult to disengage his own personality from that of Butler's.

Mike practices his lines and songs at home, as well as rehearsing with the cast almost every day. He must practice voice tone and accent as well, for Butler has a decidedly old west, dude-type accent.

As the date of the play draws nearer, Mike is beginning to get somewhat apprehensive. As he puts it: "I'm really pleased and excited that I was chosen to play this part, and I'll do the best I can. I only hope that I can live up to the expectations of Mrs. Emily King and the cast." Many people receive their cues from Mike, and depend on him and Miss Conley a great deal.

Shrine Circus set to open in Dayton

Thrills, excitement and lots of attend the 34th edition of the Antioch Shrine Circus in Dayton Hara Arena which starts today and runs through March 27th.

According to Earl D. Creager, Sr., ringmaster Lucky Larabee will herald the start of each of the 32 acts engulfing the line-up of stars. Hubert Tarzan Zerbini, with his world renowned wild animal act, will start these performances with 18 lions and tigers. Zerbini, who works without any of the usual equipment of the wild animal trainer, such as a gun, chair or whip. He depends entirely upon the superb training he has given his animals and his total command while in the arena.

Jerry Brown may enter Ohio race

Gov. Edmund G. "Jerry" Brown Jr. may be poised to become a candidate in Ohio's June 8 presidential primary election, but has little time left to commit himself to the race.

State Democratic chairman Paul Tipps says Brown campaign aides have contacted him about making the race. And, some Ohio supporters of former Peace Corps director R. Sargent Shriver say they are prepared to switch their allegiance to the California Democrat.

But Brown, contacted in Sacramento, said he knows nothing about anyone acting on his behalf in contacting Shriver supporters or attempting to enter the Ohio primary.

A Brown candidacy at this point would be difficult since Brown has only six days to organize before Ohio's filing deadline.

"I think that it is possible, but it may be impractical," Tipps said. He said Brown would have to begin organizing immediately if he hopes to make the Ohio race.

Tipps said he was contacted by Brown campaign aides on Monday. He said he advised the aides that

John Sowders, who was one of the 22 persons who took the intensive course, attended sessions which covered fertilizer and pesticide laws; blending facilities; materials in the plant; fertilizer distribution and ordering; materials application; fertilizer recommendations; formulations and blending and equipment operation and maintenance.

The course was designed to help Landmark blend operators serve fertilizer customers better.

Cincy orchestra visits Wilmington

Eduardo Mata, artistic director of the National Symphony in Mexico City, who made his debut with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra at Music Hall in December, will conduct the orchestra on four-performance Area Artist Series tour in Southern Ohio.

He will conduct concerts at Hermann Court, Wilmington College at 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 24, and also at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, March 23 at Hillsboro High School. Appearances will also be made in Portsmouth and Centerville.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) - California Brown could get on the Ohio ballot, although he might be open to challenge under party rules for not complying with the established procedure for selection of delegate-candidates.

State party rules required statewide and district caucuses last week to select candidates to run for Ohio's 152 delegate seats. But the legal deadline for filing candidacy petitions is not until 4 p.m. next Thursday

To compete for all the delegate seats, Brown would have to recruit 38 delegate-candidates to run on an atlarge slate, then another 114 candidates to run under his name on 23 district

Diane Bonar, Ohio coordinator for the Shriver campaign, which died after Shriver's dismal performance in Tuesday's Illinois primary, confirmed that candidates on at least one district slate are ready to switch to Brown.

Maple sap flows again

CHARDON, Ohio (AP) - The sap has started to flow once more from maple trees in Geauga County as a esult of recent cold temperatures an farmers expect to save what might have been a dismal harvest.

Unusually warm weather in February had caused maple trees to release darker sap than usual. This sap made an inferior type of maple syrup, farmers here say.

The trees began to release clearer sap with the advent of the recent cold weather and the farmers expect to make the "fancy-quality" syrup they are accustomed to.

The warm temperatures also had made some maple trees bud and that prevents the trees from releasing sap.

Baby pacitier recalled

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The U.S. Connecticut, Maryland, Florida and Consumer Product Safety Commission in cooperation with La Cibeles, Inc. of Union City, New Jersey has announced the recall of approximately 37,000 baby pacifiers known as "Chupetes" (pacifiers) which may pose a substantial product hazard. The pacifiers are marketed in four series marked "Fauna," "Flower," "Texas," and "Navy." They are imported from Spain and are usually sold in plastic and cardboard casings with pictures on the backing and the name of the series in large letters on the top. The pacifier sells for approximately 45

The Commission learned of the hazard through the death of a fivemonth old boy in New York in mid-February. The plastic shield caught in the child's throat and death was caused by complications ensuing from asphyxia.

The pacifiers are approximately 2 inches long with a 1 inch soft rubber nipple and a flexible plastic saucer-shaped shield at the base of the nipple approximately one and one-half inches in diameter. The handle of the pacifier is in the shape of either an animal head, a flower, a baby with a cowboy hat or a baby with a sailor cap.

The shield is marked "Made in Spain" in small molded letters. They are usually displayed for sale on a large cardboard sign with markings similar to those on the package. The work "Chupete" appears on the

The pacifiers have been distributed primarily in New York, New Jersey,

Italian Reds win consulting accord

ROME (AP) — The keynote speaker at the party congress of Italy's ruling Christian Democrats has rejected a government coalition with the Communists but says he expects them to cooperate in meeting the country's economic crisis.

Secretary-General Benigno Zaccagnini urged the congress Thursday to rule out a formal alliance with the Communists But with the Communists winning 33 per cent of the vote to the Christian Democrats' 35 per cent in nationwide elections last June, he conceded that they represent popular reality at every level.'

'It is very difficult to imagine in a democracy of a modern country (that) a conscious opposition could refuse constructive help to overcome the serious difficulties we are now going through," he said.

The Christian Democrats have coordinated their policy privately with the Communists before, most notably on legislation to liberalize the abortion law that fell short of what was wanted by the Socialists, the Christian Democrats' longtime allies. But Premier Aldo Moro embarked on a policy of open, official consultation on Wednesday when he met with Communist leader Enrico Berlinguer to ask his support for emergency economic measures the government hopes will stabilize the falling lira.

Indiana, Marquette wins set up NCAA heavyweight match

By HOWARD SMITH AP Sports Writer

Indiana and Marquette have scrambled into college basketball's heavyweight championship 10 days too early

The Hoosiers, unbeaten and ranked No. 1, outfought Alabama 74-69 and the Warriors, once-beaten and ranked No. 2, struggled past Western Michigan 62-57 in the Mideast regional of the NCAA Tournament Thursday night at Baton Rouge, La. That puts college basketball's two top-rated clubs in the regional finals Saturday. The survivor goes into the final four and the loser goes nowhere, a victim of the draw.

Neither coach was overly impressed with his team's showing.

"Tough, wasn't it?," asked Indiana's Bobby Knight after his club ran its season record to 29-0 with the help of Scott May's clutch basket with 2:01 remaining. "If he doesn't hit the basket and put us ahead, we're in a very difficult position.'

"Marquette never looks good," grumbled Warriors' Coach Al McGuire after baskets by Butch Lee, Jerome Whitehead and Bo Ellis finally turned back stubborn Western Michigan.

While Indiana and Marquette struggled to victory, the lineups for Saturday's other three regional finals were completed.

-UCLA, 25-4, goes against Arizona 24-8, in the West at Los Angeles. The Bruins beat Pepperdine 70-61 and Arizona stunned No. 3 Nevada-Las Vegas 114-109 in overtime.

-Rutgers, 30-0, faces VMI, 22-9, in the East at Greensboro, N.C. Rutgers trimmed Connecticut 93-79 and VMI outlasted DePaul 71-66 in overtime.

-Missouri, 26-4, meets Michigan, 23-6, at Louisville, Ky. Missouri defeated Texas Tech 86-75 and Michigan overcame Notre Dame 80-76.

Only eight teams remain of the 32 that set out after the NCAA crown last week. After Saturday's games the final four will head for Philadelphia where the semifinals will be held a week from

Saturday and the championship game Monday night, March 29.

But some observers think the title will be decided this Saturday in Baton Rouge when mighty Indiana and almost-asmighty Marquette collide. Both will be hoping for better showings than they made Thursday night.

Indiana fought off a strong Alabama team with the help of May's clutch bucket and two free throws apiece by Tom Abernethy and Bob Wilkerson down the stretch. The tenacious Hoosier defense held the Crimson Tide scoreless over the final 3:57 of the game and limited highly-regarded Alabama center Leon Douglas to 12

May finished with 25 points and center Kent Benson added 15 despite sitting out much of the second half with Western Michigan led Marquette 51-50 with 7:15 left before Lee, Whitehead and Ellis hit consecutive baskets to put Warriors ahead for good. Marquette froze the ball over the final two minutes to assure their 23rd straight triumph and 27th in 28 decisions this season.

Lee led the balanced attack with 16 points. Tom Cutter netted 21 for the Broncos.

In the West, No. 5 UCLA, the defending champion and winner of 10 of the last 12 NCAA crowns, beat 20thranked Pepperdine behind Marques Johnson's 18 points and Richard Washington's 16. UCLA led by just one at 50-49 midway through the second half but ran off a 20-8 spree to insure Marcos Leite and Dennis Johnson had 16 points each for Pepperdine, 22-6. Junior guard Herman Harris engineered 15th-ranked Arizona's triumph over NevadaLas Vegas. Harris scored 16 of the Wildcats' final 27 points in regulation, including the tying foul shot with 14 seconds left, and then added four free throws in the overtime. Harris had 31 points for the

Barberton faces Canton for crown

By The Associated Press

The battle for the Canton Class AAA regional basketball crown Saturday will be a rematch of last year's title tilt Barberton and Canton

Second-ranked Barberton gained a berth in the finals by defeating Cleveland East Tech 83-74 Thursday night, with the winning margin coming from the free throw line.

That set up a clash between two northeastern Ohio powerhouses, both unbeaten in 23 games. The two teams also met for the regional championship last year, with top-ranked McKinley winning 91-73.

In the East, No. 4 Rutgers ran off nine straight points early in the second several turnovers and won going away. Freshman Abdel Anderson came off the bench to score 19 points and pull down 11 rebounds, and Mike Dabney and Ed Jordan added 18 points each for the Scarlet Knights.

remaining teams, blew an 11-point lead in regulation time before subduing De-Paul in overtime. Will Bynum scored 22 points and Ron Carter had 21 for the Keydets while Ron Norwood had 23 for the Blue Demons.

There were 57 personal fouls called in the game and DePaul lost five players on fouls.

Sam Smith had 26 points for the Rebels who wound up 29-2.

In the Midwest, Willie Smith pumped in 30 points, mostly on long-range jump shots, to carry 14th-ranked Missouri past 16thranked Texas Tech. "Smith was everything we heard he was," said Tech Coach Gerald Myers. "He was hitting those 25-footers and they

"I was a pretty haphazard guy," Floyd recalled Thursday after a solid, four-under-par 68 provided him with a tie for the lead in the first round of the $175,000 Jacksonville Open Golf Tournament.

Warriors eye homecourt advantage

By The Associated Press

If the Golden State Warriors continue their present pace and finish with the best record in the National Basketball Association, they will have the homecourt advantage in every playoff series in which they are involved.

And at the rate they have been winning at home, that will be an awesome advantage. The Warriors, Pacific Division champions with a 50-20 record - best in the NBA - extended their home-court winning streak to eight games and their season's over-all record at the Oakland Coliseum Arena to 29-4, edging the Buffalo Braves 110-109 Thursday night in a game with a wild West ending.

It was a victory that Buffalo Coach Jack Ramsay thought the Warriors

Ramsay's anger was aroused in the closing seconds when the Braves appeared to have stolen an inbounds pass by the Warriors with the score 110-109. But referee Bill Jones gave the ball back to Golden State on the grounds that the ball was not yet inbounds when it was swiped.

The Warriors had led by five points, 110-105, with only 29 seconds left but almost threw away the game

'We didn't have a last-second shot player in there," Sloan offered, referring to the fact that star forward Kenny Carr had fouled out earlier. "As it was, I'm pleased we stayed with them like we did.

The victory was the first for UNC-Charlotte over an Atlantic Coast Conference team and obviously gave the 49ers' basketball program a shot in the arm. But it may provide future scheduling difficulties for the upstart 49ers who are attempting to upgrade themselves in the shadow of the ACC.

"They're going to have a harder time getting games with Atlantic Coast Conference teams now," said Sloan.

The crowd of 11,444 really got its money's worth. The fans were still limp from the first game when Johnson raced down the court at breakneck speed and laid in a spectacular shot as time ran out. The Wildcats lost leads of 18 points in the first half and 11 in the second, then pulled it out after the Friars had gone ahead 79-78 with seven seconds remaining "Johnson was going 100 miles an hour for the basket," said Providence Coach Dave Gavitt. "We just couldn't

The Philadelphia Flyers tied a National Hockey League success record and the Kansas City Scouts set a club record for failure, but neither feat was easy ... the Flyers had to erase a two-goal deficit and the Scouts had to blow a two-goal lead.

The Flyers ran their unbeaten streak to 23 games by nipping the Vancouver Canucks 3-2 as Reggie Leach scored his 54th goal of the season, most ever by a right wing in the NHL. Meanwhile, the Scouts' winless skein reached 17 games when they lost to the Boston Bruins 5-2. In the only other game, the Detroit Red Wings trounced the St. Louis Blues 6-3.

The Indianapolis Racers and San Diego Mariners tied 4-4 in the only World Hockey Association contest.

said Pete Rose, captain of the world champion Cincinnati Reds.

Rose, like many major leaguers, had worked out on his own at a local Little League field, waiting for the camps to be opened. When Kuhn gave the word, most teams held at least cursory workouts Thursday with players streaming into camps in Florida,

Meanwhile, the negotiators retreated to New York following a week of talks in Florida that was climaxed by the owners "best and final offer." That proposal included, for the first time, acknowledgement by the owners of recently-won free agent rights for the

Marvin Miller, executive director of the players association, had expressed displeasure with many aspects of the owners' document and said he would recommend rejection by the union's executive board.

Reportedly, the player representatives voted 17-5 to reject the offer. But instead of an outright turndown, they decided on a softer position, neither rejecting nor accepting the owners' offer but calling instead for further negotiation and opening of the

After an early morning high speed chase along Ohio 41-S, a Greenfield man was apprehended by Fayette County sheriff's deputies and charged with three traffic violations.

A car driven by Jerry M. Purdin, 27, of Greenfield, went left of center on Ohio 41 near Washington-New Martinsburg Road, just missing Deputy Sheriff David Krupla who was headed north on Ohio 41. After a high speed chase, Purdin was apprehended around 12:15 a.m. Friday, in Greenfield, and charged with reckless operation, fleeing a police officer, and speeding.

A collision at the corner of Gregg and Pearl Streets caused severe damage to two vehicles Thursday afternoon.

Washington C. H. police officers reported that a car driven by Tami J. Welsh, 17, of Bloomingburg, failed to halt at a stop sign on the corner of Gregg and Pearl Streets. Her car reportedly pulled into the path of Alan Anschutz, 17, of Bloomingburg, at 3:10 p.m. Thursday, and a collision resulted. There was severe damage to both vehicles.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department investigated a 12:30 a.m. Friday accident in which three mailboxes located along Washington-New Martinsburg Road near Ohio 41 were damaged. A car driven by Sterley O. Lightner, 26, of
